U.S., Russians Reach Airline Route Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. and Soviet negotiators have reached tentative agreement to expand commercial airline service between the two nations, but diplomatic sources report America has rejected a Soviet bid to permit transcontinental flights over both nations.

The expansion would permit Pan American World Airways to land at Leningrad and Aeroflot, the Soviet government-owned airline, to serve Washington, D.C. Flights currently are limited to New York and Moscow.

The Russians reportedly expressed an interest in extending their existing route to the West Coast and beyond. In return, they were described as willing to allow Pan American to fly across Siberia to the Pacific.

But the United States turned down the transcontinental proposal on grounds it was not commercially justified, sources said. They added the United States believes expanded air service should be based on commercial—rather than political—reasons.

Besides permitting the U.S. and Soviet flag carriers to land at Leningrad and Washington, the agreement also would permit the two carriers to step up the number of flights from two to six a week.

A final U.S. okay of the deal is being held up pending Soviet action to clear away some difficulties that have faced Americans since the flights began two years ago, the sources said.

Burger Eying Some Federal Court Changes

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger proposed today creation of a council representing all branches of the federal government to bring the nation's court system up to date.

"In the supermarket age," he said, "we are like a merchant trying to operate a cracker barrel corner grocery store with the methods and equipment of 1900."

Burger proposed updating of the judicial system and warned of expecting too much of the federal courts in his first state of the judiciary message to the American Bar Association.

The white-haired jurist said the courts need more money, judges and trained administrators and a streamlining of their trial and appeals processes to retain public confidence.

He questioned the priorities of a nation that spends $200 million to develop the CSA airplane and $128 million on its federal judicial system.

For at least 50 years, he said, the federal court system has had steadily increasing burdens.

"Some of this," he said, "is because of new laws and decisions and some because of a tendency that is unique to America to look to the courts to solve all problems."

At the same time, Burger said, much of the judicial machinery has grown obsolete.

Burger told the lawyers and judges they should give urgent consideration to asking Congress to create a new judiciary council which would report to all three branches of the federal government on a wide range of matters affecting federal courts.

U.S. Army Going Ahead With Nerve Gas Plans

By The Associated Press

The Army plans to embark today upon what it says will be its last mission to ship lethal nerve gas by rail for dumping in the Atlantic Ocean.

Trains carrying 418 concrete and steel jacketed vaults of nerve gas rockets—30 to the vault—were to leave Blue Grass Army Depot near Richmond, Ky., and Anniston, Ala., Army Depot for North Carolina to be loaded aboard a barge. It will be scuttled in waters 16,000 feet deep 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Routes Secret

The Army kept the routes secret but said the shipments would move through thinly populated areas. By highway, it is about 540 miles from Anniston and about 645 miles from Richmond to the North Carolina coast.

The Army said there is no danger of leakage from the vaults.

Army chemical experts will accompany the shipments and their mechanical gas-leak detectors will be backed up by 12 rabbits and 12 pigeons, highly sensitive to gas.

New Method Set

Army spokesmen said similar shipments in the future will be unnecessary because the Army is developing a method of decomposing the gas at the military bases where it is stored.

It said detonation of a 60-pound charge of dynamite beneath a vault would not damage it enough to allow gas to escape. The vaults are encase in quarter-inch armor plating.

Congressional sources said the Anniston train will pass through the Georgia cities of Bremen, Griffin, Macon and Athens before angling up through the Carolinas to an ocean terminal at Sunny Point, N.C.

The train is to move no faster than 35 miles per hour. A check of the rails was completed Saturday.

Objections Noted

Guerrillas Execute U.S. Police Expert

Body Found Bound, Gagged In Auto

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Tupamaro guerrillas executed American police expert Daniel A. Mitrone during the night because the Uruguayan government refused to release an estimated 150 political prisoners as ransom for him and two other kidnapped foreign officials.

Shot Twice In Head
Mitrone's body was found bound and gagged in a blood-stained car parked on a city street. He had been shot twice in the head. A bandage covered the chest wound he suffered when he was kidnapped July 31 while driving to work.

Police sealed off the area, removed the body from the car and declined to say where they had taken it. They refused to give official confirmation that it was Mitrone's, but police officials told newsmen there was little or no doubt.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that a second body had been found, but the police said nothing.

No Shots Heard

The car in which the body was found was left parked at an intersection in a poor worker's residential section. The car was an old American-made model which had been stolen Sunday. Police closed off the intersection, declaring it a "military zone."

People living in the area said

Official Says: Slain Judge Was 'Doomed To Die'

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — A state prison official says a kidnapped judge "was sentenced to death, no matter what happened" in a courthouse escape attempt which ended in the deaths of the judge, two convicts and an accomplice.

Associate Warden James W. Parks of San Quentin Prison told newsmen Sunday his opinion is based "primarily on knowing the extreme anger the convicts had expressed" against Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley.

Sheriff's officers said an investigation of the shootings was continuing.

Guards Draw Guns

Parks reported two prison guards had guns drawn and returned fire as a van attempted to leave Marin County Civic Center Friday. The van carried three convicts attempting to escape, an accomplice and five hostages—Haley, Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas and three women jurors.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Thomas, who was critically wounded, told his wife Maureen that he shot three men. He said he used a pistol he grabbed from the driver of the van after Judge Haley was killed.

Weapon Goes Off

Park said "We have the signed report of guard John Matthews that as the van was opposite him, he felt weapons were aimed at him, that one went off and he returned the fire."

The abduction and shooting came after Jonathan Jackson, 17, whipped out a pistol in Haley's Civic Center courtroom and shouted: "Everybody freeze!"

Jackson then passed out weapons to James McClain, being tried on a charge of assaulting a San Quentin guard, and to William Arthur Christmas and Rachel Magee, convicts waiting to testify.

Officers, backed away by the weapons, reported a sawed-off shotgun was taped to the judge's neck. They said a blast from the weapon killed him.

Israeli planes attacked Arab guerrilla bases in Lebanon over the weekend, and ground forces battled infiltrators on the Israeli-held Golan Heights. But quiet prevailed along the Suez Canal for the second day of the Egyptian-Israeli ceasefire.

The air attack Sunday on the southwest slopes of Mt. Hermon was in retaliation for guerrilla raids on Israeli frontier settlements and military positions over the weekend, an Israeli spokesman said.

A Lebanese army spokesman said the raiders burned crops and knocked out electrical power in three villages known to be guerrilla strongholds—Kfar Shuba, Shaaba and Jersa.

Arab guerrillas in Lebanon fired mortars at an Israeli border settlement in Northern Galilee Sunday night, wounding one of the settlers, the military command in Tel Aviv said today. Israeli troops returned the fire, he said.

Guerrillas from Jordan claimed killing or wounding 20 Israelis in an attack Sunday on military positions five miles north of the Dead Sea. Tel Aviv military spokesman in Tel Aviv said no Israeli casualties were reported in the incident.

The Israeli command said two guerrillas were killed and eight captured Saturday after a small force from the Syrian-based Popular Front General Command infiltrated into the occupied Golan Heights.

49 American Students Die In Plane Crash

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A Peruvian airliner returning tourists from a visit to the Inca ruins at Machu Picchu crashed Sunday, killing 49 of the 100 persons aboard, including 49 young American exchange students. It was Peru's worst air disaster.

"They were typical United States high school students, the best that their communities could offer," said Mrs. Mildred M. Brown of Buffalo, N.Y., president of the International Fellowship, Inc., which sponsored the Peruvian visit by the youths.

Fifteen other youths decided to remain in Lima with the families with whom they had spent the summer, rather than make the trip to the ruins.

Several other Americans were aboard in addition to the students spending the summer in Peru under the sponsorship of International Fellowship Inc. of Buffalo, N.Y. But their exact number was uncertain.

Young Students Aboard

International Fellowship received from the State Department a list of 49 of its students 14 to 19 years old aboard the plane. But the airline, Lansa, issued a list of 54 Americans aboard which included three other teen-agers, a 21-year-old and four older tourists. The airline listed two of the students on International Fellowship's list as Peruvians, and it was thought some of those it listed as American might be Peruvians.

The airline said the Lockheed Electra carried 91 passengers and seven crew members, but later the Aviation Department said there were two more crew members aboard.

One man, the copilot, survived. He was found in the wreckage of the cockpit.

Most of the passengers had flown to Cuzco, the ancient Inca capital 385 miles southeast of Lima, for an excursion to the Inca ruins at nearby Machu Picchu. After the day of sight-seeing, the plane had just taken off from Cuzco for Lima when one of its four turbo-prop engines failed and the pilot, Capt. Alejandro Calegari, requested permission to return to Cuzco.

The plane crashed into San Jeronimo Hill six miles south of the Cuzco airport and exploded, scattering bodies over a wide area.

Part Of Vacation

Lansa officials said the airline was sending a plane to Cuzco today to bring the bodies to Lima.

International Fellowship said the students, among 400 Americans spending 45 days with Peruvian families, were accompanied by 14 Peruvian youngsters, including Mariel Bedyo Vivanco, 16, daughter of a former Lima mayor.

Officials said the tour was an optional part of the vacation program during which students participate in organized activities while staying with their host families. The company president, Mildred Brown of Buffalo, left today for Peru.

The student victims were from New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Ohio, Maine, Wisconsin, Georgia, Maryland, North Carolina, Illinois and Pennsylvania, the company said.

Peru's worst previous air crash occurred eight years ago when 97 persons died in the crash of a Varig Airlines plane near Lima.

2 Cambodian Sites Attacked

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — One Communist attack was reported five miles north of Phnom Penh today, while other Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces hit Saing, 24 miles to the south, for the second straight day.

In South Vietnam, 10 Americans were killed and 41 wounded in two ground attacks, mine and booby trap incidents, and two aircraft crashes.

The attack just north of Phnom Penh appeared to be only a minor skirmish, on an outpost at Prek Leap on the Mekong River. A government spokesman said the attackers were driven off with the help of naval boats on the river. But the attack, combined with another Friday at Prek Leap, slightly less than five miles from Phnom Penh, indicated that the enemy had moved within rocket and artillery range of the capital.

President Urges National Land Use Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today sent Congress a State of the Environment report urging the development of a national land use policy.

The report, prepared by the Council on Environmental Quality, may well be a preview of things to come, although too late for legislative action this year.

Area Protection Eyed

It recommends federal encouragement of planned and controlled land development, protecting areas of scenic and recreational value.

throughout the wide-ranging report as one of the major tools to be used by the federal government in attacking environmental problems.

The costs of cleaning up environmental pollution, it emphasizes, must be allocated throughout society in the prices charged for products and services.

Hist Of Catastrophe

The report warns that man's activities are already altering the world's climate in ways that could bring on a catastrophe. So little is known about this, however, that the Council was undecided whether it might emerge as a man-made ice age or—just the opposite effect—a melting of the polar ice caps and flooding of large land areas.

In sending the report—the first of its kind—to Capitol Hill, Nixon reminded Congress of the major environmental proposals he has already submitted, which still await Congressional action.

But the Council, only half a year old and in practical operation scarcely four months, also offered some new proposals, giving special attention to the problems of land use.

It said the federal government should:

—Use existing project-approval authority to encourage cluster zoning and timed development.

—Direct federal sewer and water grants and open space acquisition "toward communities or project areas which will use them to control development rather than to those which merely respond to uncontrolled growth."

—Use home mortgage and interest subsidy programs "to encourage the proper siting and environmental compatibility" of new residential subdivisions.

—Emphasize acquisition of small parks and natural areas near cities.

—Protect "areas of special ecological significance."

Such recommendations, the report said, are only "aspects of a strategy" requiring broader development.

Land Use Not Guided

"Land use is still not guided by any agreed-upon standards," it said. "It is instead influenced by a welter of sometimes competitive overlapping government institutions and programs, private and public attitudes and biases, and distorted economic incentives."

Nixon told Congress that "We have treated our land as if it were a limitless resource."

Today, we are coming to realize that our land is finite, while our population is growing. Society as a whole has a legitimate interest in proper land use."

Nixon added, "I believe we must work toward development of a National Land Use Policy."

to be carried out by an effective partnership of Federal, State and local governments together, and where appropriate, with new regional institutional arrangements."

they had heard two shots about 1:30 a.m. They did not hear a car driving off, indicating that the Tupamaros had departed on foot. Apparently, no one investigated immediately, and the police said a passing police patrol car made the discovery a few hours later.

Witnesses who saw the body before police rushed it away said the hair was black. This apparently made first identification uncertain. Mitrone, a tall, heavy-set man, had white hair. The Tupamaros apparently dyed it to facilitate hiding Mitrone during his 10 days of captivity.

Body Identified
A U.S. Embassy spokesman announced later that the body had been identified by a friend as that of Mitrone.

Mitrone apparently was killed more than 12 hours after the Sunday noon deadline set by the Tupamaros for his execution. They had said they would kill him because President Jorge Pacheco Areco refused to free an estimated 150 political prisoners as ransom for Mitrone and two other foreigners kidnapped by the leftist guerrilla organization.

Two Others Held
The Tupamaros have said nothing about what they plan to do with their other captives—Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41, and Claude Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., a U.S. soil expert working for the Uruguayan government.

Dias Gomide was kidnapped July 31, the day Mitrone was seized. Fly was kidnapped last Friday.

Mitrone, 50-year-old former police chief of Richmond, Ind., is the second foreigner killed in the wave of Latin-American political kidnappings that began last September. Guatemalan rebels murdered the West German ambassador, Count Karl von Spreti, last April after the Guatemalan government refused to release 17 political prisoners.

Slain Judge Was 'Doomed To Die'

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — A state prison official says a kidnapped judge "was sentenced to death, no matter what happened" in a courthouse escape attempt which ended in the deaths of the judge, two convicts and an accomplice.

Associate Warden James W. Park of San Quentin Prison told newsmen Sunday his opinion is based "primarily on knowing the extreme anger the convicts had expressed" against Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley. Sheriff's officers said an investigation of the shootings was continuing.

Guards Draw Guns
Parks reported two prison guards had guns drawn and returned fire as a van attempted to leave Marin County Civic Center Friday. The van carried three convicts attempting to escape, an accomplice and five hostages—Haley, Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas and three women jurors.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Thomas, who was critically wounded, told his wife Maureen that he shot three men. He said he used a pistol he grabbed from the driver of the van after Judge Haley was killed.

Weapon Goes Off
Park said: "We have the signed report of guard John Matthews that as the van was opposite him, he felt weapons were aimed at him, that one went off and he returned the fire."

The abduction and shooting came after Jonathan Jackson, 17, whipped out a pistol in Haley's Civic Center courtroom and shouted: "Everybody free!" Jackson then passed out weapons to James McClain, being tried on a charge of assaulting a San Quentin guard, and to William Arthur Christmas and Ruchell Magee, convicts waiting to testify.

Officers, backed away by the weapons, reported a sawed-off shotgun was taped to the judge's neck. They said a blast from the weapon killed him when the deadly exchange began in the parking lot.

Prison Rule Cited
McClain, Christmas and Jackson also were killed and Thomas, juror Maria Graham and Magee were wounded.

Park said San Quentin has a policy of "not letting any prisoner go free because of a hostage."

"This would be the context in which our officers looked at the situation," he added.

"It is explained to all new employees at San Quentin. If they were captured, every effort will be made to rescue them, but no inmate will be allowed to get away."

"Once you allow a hostage situation to work, then you'll be plagued with it, like the airliner hijackings."

Under heavy security, Magee, reported in critical condition, was transferred Sunday from Marin General Hospital to the San Quentin prison hospital.

Michael E. Latvala drowned in about seven feet of water near the Escanaba Municipal Beach after he encountered difficulty in attempting to swim to shore from a boat anchored an estimated several hundred yards off the beach.

Lifeguard Linda Wylie located Latvala's body and with assistance from lifeguards Joe Mileski and Bob Snyder they placed it on a surfboard before lifting it into a passing boat owned by Lowell Sundstrom, 210 S. 5th St.

Guards, who were summoned about 3:45 p. m., by calls from Peter Plourde, Latvala's companion, administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on the beach without success until the arrival of Dr. William LeMire of Escanaba. Further efforts to revive Latvala by Dr. LeMire failed and Latvala was pronounced dead, police reported.

Left Gladstone
Plourde told Escanaba police that they had left the Gladstone marina in his father's boat about 3 p. m. He said they anchored the boat off the beachhouse and were attempting to swim to shore when after they had gone about 30 yards from the boat Latvala said he was tired. Plourde told officers that he tried to help, but couldn't keep Latvala afloat so he started yelling the swimming for shore.

Lifeguards speculated that Latvala may have suffered a stomach cramp and the cramp prevented him from "bobbing" in the seven feet of water until help could arrive.

Michael Edward Latvala was born Nov. 20, 1949, in Escanaba and he was a student at Michigan Technological University Training School at L'Anse. He had attended Trenary High School.

Rites Tuesday
He is survived by his widow, the former Gail Anderson of Escanaba, and one daughter, Robin Rose; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Veikko Latvala of Trenary and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wallin of Escanaba.

Friends may call from 4 to 9:30 p. m., today at the Skradski Funeral Home in Gladstone and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., Tuesday at St. Rita's Church in Trenary with the Rev. John Ryan officiating. Burial will be in Trenary Cemetery.

Market Shows Steady Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices nosedived today this morning as trading continued to be slow.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks sank 8.35 points or 1.15 per cent to 717.25.

Decliners led advancing issues by more than 2 to 1. Analysts could point to no particular reason for the market's decline. They did say, however, the market probably would make no significant moves until trading picked up again.

Traditionally, trading always has been slow in August, and they said this year probably would be no exception, with no pickup in volume occurring before Labor Day.

Some brokers said the market was being influenced more by economic factors now than by general news developments from the Middle or Far East. They said investors were uncertain about the state of the economy and about the rate of inflation which some economic indicators have shown to be cooling off.

Other analysts observe investors may be waiting to see what turn business makes in the third quarter and if the projected turnaround occurs as expected.

All categories were off except for rails and mail order-retail which were mixed.

At noon The Associated Press 60-stock index was off 1.8 at 238.6, with industrials off 3.8, rails off 0.4, and utilities off 0.5.

Prisoner Treated For Razor Cuts

An inmate of the Delta County Jail was treated at St. Francis Hospital Sunday for self-inflicted cuts on his wrist, Escanaba police reported today.

Patrick Gibbons, 21, of Rte. 3, Rapid River, was returned to jail Sunday and pleaded guilty in Circuit Court this morning to a breaking and entering charge. He was remanded to the jail to await sentencing Aug. 28.

Escanaba police, who were notified by a deputy of the Sheriff's Dept., at 1:45 a. m., said when they arrived in the cell-block Gibbons' cellmate was holding a shoelace tourniquet on Gibbons' arm. Police applied a pressure bandage and took him to the hospital for treatment.

Officers said Gibbons had made several cuts above his wrist with a razor blade.

Sheriff Harold Finnan said today that officers have not determined how Gibbons got the razor blade into his cell. He said prisoners are allowed to shave, but razor blades are then taken away by deputies. The incident happened about 1:45 a. m., Sunday.

Trenary Man Drowns Near Escanaba Beach

A 20-year-old Trenary man became Delta County's seventh drowning victim Saturday.

Michael E. Latvala drowned in about seven feet of water near the Escanaba Municipal Beach after he encountered difficulty in attempting to swim to shore from a boat anchored an estimated several hundred yards off the beach.

Lifeguard Linda Wylie located Latvala's body and with assistance from lifeguards Joe Mileski and Bob Snyder they placed it on a surfboard before lifting it into a passing boat owned by Lowell Sundstrom, 210 S. 5th St.

Guards, who were summoned about 3:45 p. m., by calls from Peter Plourde, Latvala's companion, administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on the beach without success until the arrival of Dr. William LeMire of Escanaba. Further efforts to revive Latvala by Dr. LeMire failed and Latvala was pronounced dead, police reported.

Left Gladstone

Plourde told Escanaba police that they had left the Gladstone marina in his father's boat about 3 p. m. He said they anchored the boat off the beachhouse and were attempting to swim to shore when after they had gone about 30 yards from the boat Latvala said he was tired. Plourde told officers that he tried to help, but couldn't keep Latvala afloat so he started yelling the swimming for shore.

Lifeguards speculated that Latvala may have suffered a stomach cramp and the cramp prevented him from "bobbing" in the seven feet of water until help could arrive.

Michael Edward Latvala was born Nov. 20, 1949, in Escanaba and he was a student at Michigan Technological University Training School at L'Anse. He had attended Trenary High School.

Rites Tuesday

He is survived by his widow, the former Gail Anderson of Escanaba, and one daughter, Robbin Rose; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Veikko Latvala of Trenary and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wallin of Escanaba.

Friends may call from 4 to 9:30 p. m., today at the Skradski Funeral Home in Gladstone and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., Tuesday at St. Rita's Church in Trenary with the Rev. John Ryan officiating. Burial will be in Trenary Cemetery.

Prisoner Treated For Razor Cuts

An inmate of the Delta County Jail was treated at St. Francis Hospital Sunday for self-inflicted cuts on his wrist, Escanaba police reported today.

Patrick Gibbons, 21, of Rte. 3, Rapid River, was returned to jail Sunday and pleaded guilty in Circuit Court this morning to a breaking and entering charge. He was remanded to the jail to await sentencing Aug. 28.

Escanaba police, who were notified by a deputy of the Sheriff's Dept., at 1:45 a. m., said when they arrived in the cell-block Gibbons' cellmate was holding a shoe leather tourniquet on Gibbons' arm. Police applied a pressure bandage and took him to the hospital for treatment.

Officers said Gibbons had made several cuts above his wrist with a razor blade.

Sheriff Harold Finman said today that officers have not determined how Gibbons got the razor blade into his cell. He said prisoners are allowed to shave, but razor blades are then taken away by deputies. The incident happened about 1:45 a. m., Sunday.

Possible Plane Hijack Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Eastern Airlines flight from New York to San Juan, Puerto Rico, made a precautionary landing at Dulles International Airport here today after a passenger reportedly commented that the plane might wind up in Cuba.

The passenger, identified as Angel Devilla, Jr. 34, of the Bronx, New York City, was taken off the DC8 at Dulles for questioning by the FBI.

An airport spokesman said Devilla "said something like 'maybe we'll be landing today and maybe we'll never make it to San Juan.'" The comment, he said, was made to a passing stewardess and several passengers.

The stewardess reported the remark to the pilot.

FBI Wiretaps Take King 'Off Their Backs'

NEW YORK (AP) — Time magazine says the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. toned down his criticism of the FBI after its director, J. Edgar Hoover, confronted him with wiretaps revealing King's alleged extramarital activities.

In an article discussing a new book about King, "The King God Didn't Save," by novelist John Williams, Time gives its version of a 1964 meeting between King and Hoover.

Time says Williams reports the FBI began tapping King's telephone and bugging his hotel rooms in 1963 and while it uncovered no subversion it "did turn up an astonishing amount of information about King's extensive and vigorous sexual activities."

Time continues: "Williams has the correct outline of the FBI tape story. What he does

U.S. Army Going Ahead With Its Nerve Gas Plans

Gov. Lester Maddox, of Georgia offered to ride atop the train to demonstrate his confidence in the Army's safety precautions. The Army said it had no orders permitting him aboard.

But Rep. Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky., says he will be on the Blue Grass Depot train until it leaves Kentucky "to help allay fear among the residents" of his southeastern Kentucky district. He said he had Army authority to ride the train.

However, dissent has been expressed by a number of persons, among them Florida Gov. Claude Kirk, three congressmen from his state and U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations.

Thant Raps Plan

Thant said disposal of the gas in international waters would violate a U.N. General Assembly resolution on pollution of the high seas. The State Department denied this.

Kirk and the congressmen appealed to Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird to halt the dumping, opposed by environmentalists who fear pollution of the ocean.

The Army contends that the ocean will render the gas harmless by dilution or salt water or pressure over cracks the vaults.

2,000 Flee Blaze At Ford Museum

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Fire ravaged 50,000 square feet of the Henry Ford Museum, adjoining Greenfield Village, here Sunday and destroyed dozens of historical antiques and the Museum's "Street of Shops."

Two thousand persons fled the building without injury, but four firemen were treated at the scene after being overcome by dense smoke.

Cause of the blaze remained undetermined today, but firemen suspect careless smoking on the part of someone was responsible.

Flames were confined to the west wing of the 14-acre museum, which houses exhibits of Americana, some of it irreplaceable and ranging from the largest steam locomotive ever built to tiny filaments which made Thomas Edison's first electric bulb glow.

The central section of the museum is a replica of Philadelphia's Independence Hall. It was founded in 1929 by the Late Henry Ford and Edison took part in its dedication.

Adjoining Greenfield Village, also founded by Ford, covers 260 acres and contains many originals of historic American buildings, such as the Court-house in which Abraham Lincoln first practiced law.

Together, the village and museum, attract more than a million tourists a year.

Destroyed in the museum fire in the "Street of Shops" were an early day violin makers shop, a cabinet maker's shop, a candy potter, tin, gun and textile shop and most of the "Light We Live By" exhibit tracing Edison's development of the light bulb.

The famed electrical inventor's original Menlo Park, N. J., laboratory is a Greenfield Village attraction.

Firemen fought for more than two hours to bring the fire under control, but didn't succeed until it had devoured a large display of historical documents and letters and had damaged several priceless pianos, some built in the early 1800s and some agricultural equipment such as tractors and reapers.

Firemen said lack of a sprinkler system in the museum and oil used in treatment of the museum's teak floors hindered

Time continues: "Williams has the correct outline of the FBI tape story. What he does not have is precisely what happened at the celebrated meeting between FBI Director Hoover and King in 1964."

"Hoover, Time learned, explained to King just what damaging private detail he had on the tapes and lectured him that his morals should be those befitting a Nobel Prize winner. He also suggested that King should tone down his criticism of the FBI. King took the advice. His decline in black esteem followed, a decline scathingly narrated by Williams."

The fact that the FBI had been tapping King's telephone was disclosed last year by FBI agent Robert Nichols in a Houston, Tex., courtroom where boxer Cassius Clay was seeking to vacate a sentence for refusal to be inducted into the Army. One of the monitored conversations was between King and Clay.

Nichols was not allowed by the judge to say why King's phone was tapped, but he said it occurred at a time when King was attacking the FBI for assigning Southern agents, rather than Northerners, to protecting civil rights workers.

Robert Wheeler, vice president of research and collections, said he hopes at least some of the items lost can be replaced, and added: "we are very fortunate that the fire was confined to the west wing. It could have been worse."

Greenfield Village remains open, but the museum is closed. Officials hope to have the Museum at least partially reopened again within two weeks.

The museum's display of antique automobiles, including Ford's original Model T; the collection of airplanes, including the Ford Tri-Motor, which Admiral Richard E. Byrd flew over the South Pole, and a collection of dozens of early-day trains escaped damage.

Little Presque Isle

"The ideal solution to the dilemma lies in the expansion of the Upper Peninsula Generating Co.'s existing facilities at the mouth of the Dead River," the Marquette Mining Journal suggested in an editorial on March 14, 1969. "This would forestall the industrialization of the Little Presque Isle area and check the proliferation of power plants along the Lake Superior shoreline in Marquette and vicinity."

Officials of the Upper Peninsula Generating Co. last week announced that the company has reached a final decision on where its new steam electric generating unit will be, and the choice represents "the ideal solution." The company will build the new unit adjacent to its existing facilities at the mouth of the Dead River in Marquette.

With the exception of some residents of Marquette Township, in which Little Presque Isle is located, nearly everyone concerned should be pleased with the decision of the Upper Peninsula Generating Co.

The City of Marquette will benefit greatly from the expanded generating plant. (Upper Peninsula Generating already is the largest single taxpayer in the city and will be contributing more revenues to the city's treasury when the new unit is built). And the new unit in itself will be another indication of economic growth in Marquette County.

In making the announcement regarding the site determination, the power company said no statement could be made now regarding the size of the unit to be added to the present four units at the station in Marquette. But in December, 1968, when Upper Peninsula Generating revealed that it was planning to construct a huge new generating plant at the Little Presque Isle site, it was known that the generating unit would have a capacity of at least 107,000 kilowatts and probably would cost between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000. The plant, it was said then, would be designed eventually to accommodate an additional four or five units.

Soon after the announcement in 1968 that the company was planning to construct the new unit, a number of citizens protested that the plant would spoil the natural beauty of picturesque Little Presque Isle. Working through an organization called Citizens To Save the Superior Shoreline, many of these people fought the company's proposed project and circulated petitions against it.

What ensued was a classic struggle between economic progress and natural beauty. The generating company pointed out that a new generating plant was essential to serve expanded iron mining operations that were projected on the Marquette Range and that the Little Presque Isle site was the best available location for the plant. Citizens To Save the Superior Shoreline argued that Little Presque Isle is one of the most scenic spots along the Lake Superior shoreline and that its beauty would be destroyed by construction of a power plant there.

After the generating company announced its plans to build at Little Presque Isle, a complex set of circumstances occurred which made it possible for the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad Co., to offer to the power company land it owned adjacent to the U. P. Generating Co. plant in Marquette. The U. P. Generating and L&S dock facilities adjoin one another on the north side of the Dead River at Presque Isle (not to be confused with Little Presque Isle). The L&S land became available after the Chicago & North Western Railway began operation of its huge new ore shipping dock in Escanaba and the subsequent decline in the volume of ore shipped from L&S's dock.

Now that the power company no longer needs the Little Presque Isle site, it behooves those who fought the development of the generating unit there to do something to preserve this property for the public. U. P. Generating held an option on 400 acres at Little Presque Isle. Citizens To Save the Superior Shoreline should be interested in negotiating with owners of the property with an eye toward acquiring it to assure that this beauty spot will become a public scenic area.

The Family Lawyer

Myrtle picked out a shopping cart at the market, placed her baby son in the front seat, buckled the strap and made her way to the vegetable section. But as she was examining the lettuce, the child burst through the strap and fell to the floor.

In short order, Myrtle sued the store for damages. She said the strap was so badly worn that it should have been replaced.

"That is possible," countered the company, "but it is also possible that the child put excessive strain on the strap. She admits she was not looking at him at the moment he fell, so she just does not know how hard he was squirming."

Nevertheless, the court held the store liable. The judge said the strap should have been sturdy enough to withstand all the pressure a baby was likely to exert.

In supplying shopping carts to its customers, a store must live up to basic standards of safety. Furthermore, it must keep a reasonably watchful eye on the way the carts are handled.

Still, a store is not liable if the accident cannot be traced in some way to its negligence. Take this case:

A woman suffered a sprained finger when the shopping cart she was pushing came to a sudden stop. It seems that a stray piece of string had somehow gotten tangled around a wheel, locking it tight.

But when she filed suit for damages, a court could find no grounds for blaming the management. The court said this was the kind of an accident that would simply have to be chalked up to bad luck. As one judge put it:

"The shopper bears some of the hazards of life inside a supermarket as well as outside."

Ellis Island Plans Outshine Alcatraz

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

"There are no islands any more," said Edna St. Vincent Millay in a famous anti-isolationist poem of World War II. She should have lived to apply her reasoning to two islands at the ends of the American continent — Alcatraz in San Francisco Bay and Ellis in New York harbor.

Alcatraz, at the moment, is the more troublesome. It was seized some time ago by the Indians, the excuse being that, as deserted territory, it had reverted by some obscure right to its original owners, the aborigines. One trouble with the Indians' thinking is that Alcatraz cannot be made self-supporting. Even the soil that covers the rocks of the old prison island had to be imported from the mainland. After making a headline splash with their original seizure of the place some of the Indians gave up on it. But a hard core of squatters still lingers on, and Robert Robertson, who directs the National Council on Indian Opportunity, has not been able to persuade the last-ditchers that the island will never have any "high density" use.

Secretary of the Interior Michel has asked that Alcatraz be pulled out of the "competitive bid" category of excess government property and put into a Golden Circle of parks ringing the San Francisco Bay area. Sailors have requested that the old navigational aids be restored to the island; they get poor security from the temporary buoys that have replaced the old lights and fog signals. As a park, Alcatraz could be given an Indian flavor; the Red Man could install exhibitions to tell his story. Nothing can be done constructively, however, until the Indians give up their intransigent attitude.

At the other end of the country, something useful could be made of Ellis Island, the former "gateway to the New World," without dispossessing anybody.

The other day Dr. Thomas Matthews, on behalf of the black self-help group called NEGRO (National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization), made his application to the U. S. Department of the Interior and the National Park Service for a 20-year revocable permit to use the island for "dual but mutually supportive purposes."

One: he wants to create a memorial to the immigration of the past, when the island was the symbol of hope for all the dispossessed of Europe. Two: he has plans for turning the island into a rehabilitative community which will draw its population from chronic welfare recipients, drug addicts,

Future Belongs To Young, Chou Says

PARIS (AP) — Red China's Premier Chou En-lai says the future belongs to the young people of today's world and it "doesn't necessarily mean making and remaking the revolution."

"The revolutionary struggle is a personal struggle," Chou was quoted as saying in an interview published Saturday in the newspaper France-Soir.

"One can commit errors, change and progress. The important thing is to find the right road, the happy medium."

chronic alcoholics, and former prisoners.

The National Park Service has done its best to maintain Ellis Island as a monument, but it hasn't had the resources to make of it a vibrant memory of the melting pot concept of American society.

Using his own funds from NEGRO, Dr. Matthews would restore and maintain the main building as the Ellis Island Immigration Museum. The historical societies would be asked to create exhibitions which would allow tourists to retrace their ancestors' steps from the Old World to the New. There would be eating and lounge facilities, and transportation would be provided both from Manhattan and New Jersey.

The remainder of the island would become a self-supporting community for "new immigrants" who are seeking re-entry into American life. Dr. Matthews' NEGRO already operates a chemical plant, a textile company, a paint manufacturing company, a Los Angeles bus line, and some Bronx apartment buildings. Some offshoots of the NEGRO subsidiaries would be set up on the island, staffed by welfare recipients who really desire to get off relief and by drug addicts who genuinely want to kick the habit. They would live on the island.

"This benevolent isolation," says Dr. Matthews, "will make possible the rehabilitation that NEGRO's complex sociological and economic programs provide."

It's a grand concept as Dr. Matthews has outlined it, and it could be carried out without having to go either to Congress or to private charity to get it moving.

Dr. Matthews considers public welfareism to be the modern counterpart of the old plantation system, which gave black people "cradle-to-grave" support under conditions that were certainly not conducive to self-respect.

The "new Ellis Island" would be a symbol of rescue from welfareism as Alcatraz under the Indians could never hope to be.

Recent Food Criticism Start Of Something Big?

By JOHN CUNNEIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Recent criticism of the foods we eat are probably only a prelude of things to come. Man is increasingly experimenting with what goes into his stomach, and if that cavity doesn't always rebel the mind doesn't.

Cereals, additives and preservatives have been attacked recently by the Federal Drug Administration. "Nader's Raiders," and ordinary citizens. And while little has been proven, suspicions have been aroused permanently.

Now look at the potential for controversy that lies ahead because man has not been content with or has been unable to prepare and distribute his food in its natural state.

There are:

—30 preservatives to keep food fresh.

—28 antioxidants to retard breakdown of fats and oils—to keep food from becoming rancid.

—44 sequestrants to separate minute elements which might interfere with food processing.

—31 stabilizers to keep food at uniform, smooth texture.

—85 surfactants, or wetting agents, which allow two surfaces of food ingredients to come together in a mixture.

That's only the beginning. Food science is one of the most rapidly growing disciplines, forced ahead by knowledge of 10,000 deaths a day from malnutrition, and spurred by the potential for making foods tastier or more nutritious or more profitable.

More than 2,000 of the world's top-ranked food and nutrition experts, now in Washington for the Third International Congress of Food and Science and Technology, are talking about strange possibilities for the future.

—The use of ocean plants, including algae, seaweed, plankton and tiny sea vegetables—

—whale food, you might say. Such foods are considered the most promising raw materials not now used by humans.

—The production of fish protein concentrates, or proteins from other sources such as plant leaves and micro-organisms that have been fed on petroleum products.

—Meat analogs, or products that resemble meat in flavor, appearance and texture. Such foods already are being made, mainly from soybeans.

—Conversion of cellulose starch into food, and the conversion of waste products—animal blood, for example—into protein-rich foods.

—Development of chemicals to help prevent losses in the growing, processing and preserving of foods. Insects, for example, are said to destroy $4 billion of the world's crops annually.

Quite understandably, the food experts have decided on "The Science of Survival" as the theme of their meeting, because perpetuation of the species is the most important goal of their calling.

Jane Fonda Sets Up 'GI Office'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda and a group of other sponsors have opened an office here to investigate and document complaints by servicemen about deprivation of their rights.

Miss Fonda said Saturday she plans to donate proceeds from a college lecture tour this fall to what she calls the "GI Office." She said other funds are expected from individuals.

She declined to give the address of the office, saying there was a fear of reprisals, but she said GI complaints should be addressed to P.O. Box 9746, Washington, D.C.

Information gathered, she said, will be turned over to "senators and congressmen who share our concern."

Opening lead — five of diamonds.

The defenders learn a great deal about declarer's hand during the bidding, and this sometimes enables them to take advantage of declarer during the play.

Here is a fine example of high-class defense. South got to four spades and West, who had listened attentively to the bidding, decided that East probably had a singleton or a void in diamonds. Accordingly, West chose a diamond as his opening lead.

Declarer won in dummy and, recognizing that the defenders' strategy was to play for diamond ruffs, set out to draw the adverse trumps as soon as possible by leading a low trump to the ace and another one back to the jack.

It was at this point that East, Edwin Kantar of Los Angeles, made the remarkable play of permitting the jack to win! As a result, South could no longer make the contract. Whatever he played next, he was bound to go down one.

Actually, declarer led another trump from dummy. Kantar won with the king, cashed the king of hearts, continued with a heart to the ace, and West delivered the decisive blow when he returned a diamond for Kantar to ruff.

Now let's suppose that Kantar had won the jack of spades with the king, as any other civilized human being would have done. In that case, South would have made the hand even though East returned a heart to his partner's ace and got a diamond back in return.

The effect of ducking the jack of spades was to permit the defense to score two heart tricks, a ruff and a spade — instead of one heart trick, a ruff and a spade. Kantar had the presence of mind to postpone his desire for a ruff.

Ann Landers

'Nunuvverbizznizz' Question Answered

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in such a state of shock I can hardly write this letter. This afternoon I met a former neighbor on the street. We were always good friends and our children grew up together. In the course of the conversation (on the sidewalk, mind you) she mentioned having gone to Pittsburgh to attend a nephew's wedding. It was then that I asked a perfectly innocent question — why her attractive, well-educated 31-year-old daughter has never married. The woman looked at me straight in the eye and said, "Because she is a Lesbian."

I was so stunned I didn't know how to respond. Why would a mother admit something like this? I can't get over it. What is this world coming to? — Still Speechless

Dear S.S.: My guess is the lady was giving you the needle for asking such a nunuvverbizznizz type question. Her shocking response was calculated to melt your bridgework — and obviously she succeeded.

Dear Ann Landers: What's the matter with me? Am I super-energetic, giant-hearted or just plain nuts? Whenever I go to a party I can't enjoy myself as a guest. I always have to empty ash-trays, serve drinks, work in the kitchen — as if I were a paid employee. Why can't I be a guest like everyone else? Sometimes I find myself working when there is plenty of catered help and even the hostess is relaxing and enjoying herself.

I'm beginning to question my motives. What might appear to be a desire to "help" may be something quite different — such as the need to be needed. Can you explain this to me? — Dizzy Janice

Dear Dizz: You've explained it to yourself. Your feelings of insecurity have tailed you from childhood. Your compulsion to be "useful" is in reality an attempt to justify your presence at the party. Working in the kitchen or busying yourself with the ice cubes can also serve a second purpose. It can provide you with an excuse to avoid the social interchange which you might find too challenging.

Dear Ann Landers: The boss had his first grandchild six weeks ago. He is an inveterate shutter-bug. What a terrible combination! Every other day he hands me four dozen snapshots of the baby and stands at my elbow, expecting a comment on each and every photo. How often can a person say, "This is a great picture!" — Or "Gee, he's a big boy!"

To make matters worse, the pictures are lousy and the baby is a mutt.

Several others in this office have been similarly trapped. Any suggestions? — Tongue Tied

Dear Tied: Hope for a second grandchild soon. The boss will be using a lot less film and taking up fewer office hours when the novelty of being a grandfather wears off.

In the meantime, have a few dozen snapshots of your kids on hand. If you don't have any kids, pictures of your last vacation will do. Whenever he gives you his fist full of pictures, hand him yours. He might get the idea.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass

Opening lead — five of diamonds.

The defenders learn a great deal about declarer's hand during the bidding, and this sometimes enables them to take advantage of declarer during the play.

Here is a fine example of high-class defense. South got to four spades and West, who had listened attentively to the bidding, decided that East probably had a singleton or a void in diamonds. Accordingly, West chose a diamond as his opening lead.

Declarer won in dummy and, recognizing that the defenders' strategy was to play for diamond ruffs, set out to draw the adverse trumps as soon as possible by leading a low trump to the ace and another one back to the jack.

It was at this point that East, Edwin Kantar of Los Angeles, made the remarkable play of permitting the jack to win! As a result, South could no longer make the contract. Whatever he played next, he was bound to go down one.

Actually, declarer led another trump from dummy. Kantar won with the king, cashed the king of hearts, continued with a heart to the ace, and West delivered the decisive blow when he returned a diamond for Kantar to ruff.

Now let's suppose that Kantar had won the jack of spades with the king, as any other civilized human being would have done. In that case, South would have made the hand even though East returned a heart to his partner's ace and got a diamond back in return.

The effect of ducking the jack of spades was to permit the defense to score two heart tricks, a ruff and a spade — instead of one heart trick, a ruff and a spade. Kantar had the presence of mind to postpone his desire for a ruff.

Ann Landers

'Nunuvyverbizznizz' Question Answered

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in such a state of shock I can hardly write this letter. This afternoon I met a former neighbor on the street. We were always good friends and our children grew up together. In the course of the conversation (on the sidewalk, mind you) she mentioned having gone to Pittsburgh to attend a nephew's wedding. It was then that I asked a perfectly innocent question — why her attractive, well-educated 31-year-old daughter has never married. The woman looked at me straight in the eye and said, "Because she is a Lesbian."

I was so stunned I didn't know how to respond. Why would a mother admit something like this? I can't get over it. What is this world coming to? — Still Speechless

Dear S.S.: My guess is the lady was giving you the needle for asking such a nunuvyverbizznizz type question. Her shocking response was calculated to melt your bridgework — and obviously she succeeded.

Dear Ann Landers: What's the matter with me? Am I super-energetic, giant-hearted or just plain nuts? Whenever I go to a party I can't enjoy myself as a guest. I always have to empty ash-trays, serve drinks, work in the kitchen — as if I were a paid employee. Why can't I be a guest like everyone else? Sometimes I find myself working when there is plenty of catered help and even the hostess is relaxing and enjoying herself.

I'm beginning to question my motives. What might appear to be a desire to "help" may be something quite different — such as the need to be needed. Can you explain this to me? — Dizzy Janice

Dear Dizzy: You've explained it to yourself. Your feelings of insecurity have tailed you from childhood. Your compulsion to be "useful" is in reality an attempt to justify your presence at the party. Working in the kitchen or busying yourself with the ice cubes can also serve a second purpose. It can provide you with an excuse to avoid the social interchange which you might find too challenging.

Dear Ann Landers: The boss had his first grandchild six weeks ago. He is an inveterate shutter-bug. What a terrible combination! Every other day he hands me four dozen snapshots of the baby and stands at my elbow, expecting a comment on each and every photo. How often can a person say, "This is a great picture!" — Or "Gee, he's a big boy!"

To make matters worse, the pictures are lousy and the baby is a mutt. Several others in this office have been similarly trapped. Any suggestions? — Tongue Tied be using a lot less film and taking up fewer office hours when the novelty of being a grandfather wears off.

In the meantime, have a few dozen snapshots of your kids on hand. If you don't have any kids, pictures of your last vacation will do. Whenever he gives you his fist full of pictures, hand him yours. He might get the idea.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Thompson's University Players of Madison, Wis., delighted a large crowd of dancers at the Coliseum with a generous and well balanced program of the latest dance music. Among the right-off-the-bat selections were "The Music Box," "The Love Nest," and an Al Jolson number which is still unnamed. The orchestra will play again tonight at the Coliseum and another large crowd is predicted by the management.

GENTLE SEX

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government has "sympathy towards the gentle sex" but cannot refrain from arresting them when women indulge in agitations, a government spokesman told Parliament.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

If you are concerned about the sandbox killing the grass in your yard, making those ugly yellow spots, or if you have the problem of the children getting too much sun, then this is for you.

Have you ever thought of putting the sandbox up on wheels?

Most sandboxes are set up off the ground on feet. Drill one large hole in each of these four "feet" in order that metal dowel rods can be run through the holes. These rods should extend enough on each side so that small rubber tires (discarded children's wagon tires are ideal) may be attached.

Put two thick nuts between each tire and the sandbox to keep the tires from rubbing against the box. Then drop pins through holes in the ends of the rods to keep the tires from working off.

Now attach a plastic rope to one end and even the "little ones" will be able to push and pull a hundred pounds of sand all over the yard.

Bette

Dear Heloise:

I am a young mother who loves to take snapshots for sentimental reasons.

Here is how I keep my camera and photos organized:

I keep a small camera, a supply of films, bulbs and instructions in a lunch kit (the inexpensive plastic type with a zipper opening and a shoulder strap). This is easy to carry and I never have to hunt for film, flashcube, etc., when I want to take a picture.

I also keep a scratch pad and pen in the "camera case" so that each time I take a picture I can note the date and subject next to the number of the picture. Then when my pictures are developed all I have to do is arrange the photos according to the consecutively numbered negatives.

This is so easy and quick and I never have to guess when a picture was taken and who the subject was when I go to write on the back of the picture.

Annette Zuernemann

Dear Heloise:

I grew up in the wide open spaces, and now that we have a small city apartment, I miss the green and blue of nature.

We have crammed our enclosed patio with plants. And as the result of this, we have learned to cut down on our watering chores by the "double-decker" method.

Pitcher by pitcher we carry the water to our hanging baskets but kill two birds with one stone for we have strategically placed the other sturdy potted plants below them. The water dripping from above (like rainfall) takes care of the lower ones.

We also have ferns planted in a border and the water splashes on them too, and this really takes care of all those thirsty devils.

Hilda Rose

Dear Heloise:

While making rye bread I came across this idea:

As you know, caraway seeds are used to flavor rye bread. However, I do not like to bite into the seeds. I decided to try using my peppermill to grind them and it worked wonders.

Now I have two mills, one for pepper and one for the caraway seeds.

Alma Woerner

Dear Heloise:

A few years ago I wanted a picture for my kitchen and couldn't find one that was predominantly yellow.

So I cut out a lot of yellow flowers from seed and nursery catalogues, added a few red ones and some green leaves here and there.

Then I arranged them to look like a big bouquet. I glued this paper arrangement on appropriate backing, matted it and put it in an inexpensive frame that I bought at the dime store.

Very pretty, and what's more it is exactly what I had in mind.

Green Lights Aid Atmosphere

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you are planning to light your garden, avoid the amusement park look.

The difference between a professional lighting job and an amateur one may merely be a plan. You must study the landscape and your requirements before you do anything.

And don't be in a hurry to light up the grounds of a new house. The garden should always breathe, flower and become part of the landscape before you consider lighting it. But a new house might be electrically planned to grow into a garden lighting picture, advises lighting expert William Shalda of Burbank, Calif. If it is equipped with sufficient electrical circuits, an expensive job of wiring will not be needed when you are ready to install lights.

A garden should create a relaxed atmosphere under lights, Shalda explains, but there are no definite rules for landscape lighting because there are none for various tastes. Floodlights should be used with discretion, with high brightness fixtures generally limited to patios, terraces and party areas where people cook and dine.

Here are some of his pointers:

Experimentation will help pin-point light sources and locations. Lighting consultants can be helpful.

You Have A Choice

Front doors, hallways, driveways, steps should be considered in the light of functional illumination. Put esthetic effects of lighting in the living area of the garden. You may choose subtle, soft light or more stimulating dramatic effects with brighter light. Today, newer fixtures and lamps in a wider variety make this possible.

Choose a focal point. Statuary? Prized plantings? Consider silhouetting a distinctive tree with backlighting. Dramatic silhouette effects may be achieved for plantings set against fences, screens, buildings.

Although newer lighting fixtures are ornamental, you should place lights so that they do not look unattractive in the daylight.

As a general rule, area lights should be concealed high in the trees or on buildings—no lower than 10 feet from the ground, preferably 16 to 24 feet—deep shielding can generate an air of mystery.

Mushroom and similar low-level lighting fixtures in a variety of light spreads are available to provide light without excessive glare or brightness. Fiber glass shades may be used to provide subtle uplighting, if desirable.

If you use accent lighting to enhance small focal points of interest, the source of light should be shielded.

In lighting a tree, two-direction illumination will avoid a flat look. A spot lamp may be used to highlight the tree, while a floodlight can come from another direction. The effort may be realized by experimentation in various locations.

Colors — amber, blue, pale greens — are used in garden lighting to add subtle effects, and mercury vapor lighting provides a moonlight-type atmosphere with its soft-blue-white color.

In areas where weather may be severe some months of the year, portable lighting fixtures are popular because they may be stored during the stormy months. These lights are especially good for people with a "growing" garden. They can reposition lights as the landscape changes, and when the garden has matured they can install permanent fixtures. This movable lighting is good too for people who can't quite make up their minds how they really want the garden to be lighted.

In addition to beauty, outdoor lighting can provide a subtle form of protection. In some areas, a few lights left burning at night may provide a great deal of satisfaction to a home owner who may assume they will discourage prowlers.

CARVED CANE

Denver, Colo. (AP) — Guy B. Clark of Denver owns a wooden cane carved in a corkscrew pattern on which are engraved the names of 282 Union soldiers from Scranton, Pa., all of whom were Confederate prisoners of war. Clark said the cane was carved by the uncle of his cousin.

The men who swarmed over Chilkoot Pass in their mad rush for Klondike gold, enjoyed the scenery but hated the steep climb — a 25 per cent grade most of the way and 35 per cent the rest. "Heaven to look at," the stamper said, "and hell to navigate."

Ranger Lists Regulations For Camping

With the number of visitors to the Hiawatha National Forest at an all-time high, many problems have arisen for the National Forest Service, district ranger Peter J. Kabon said.

Certain management techniques and controls have become necessary to preserve the natural environment of the forest including a permit system for undeveloped campsites. By limiting the use of campsites, the Forest Service can protect areas from an excessive build-up of human waste matter, soil compaction and erosion with the natural vegetation of the area preserved.

Camping permits are free of charge from the local Ranger Station on a first-come, first-served basis for choice of site. Kabon said. Persons who camp without a permit are in violation and subject to a fine.

Kabon said many persons are obviously unfamiliar with regulations governing the mooring of boats on National Forest lands. Boats cannot be left unattended and must be removed after use, he said.

This is necessary to prevent cluttering of public access sites and boat launching ramps. Illegally moored boats also cause tree damage when chained to the bark of trees. Some old wooden "junks" are also abandoned along the shore and detract from the beauty of the wilderness, Kabon added.

Only by complying with the rules and regulations governing National Forest use can the many resources be available for present and future use, the district ranger concluded.

Intangible Taxes Being Distributed

County treasurer William Cowman has distributed $11,191.25 intangible tax return from the state to the city and townships on the following basis:

Last year the county received $10,922.86, Cowman said.

Michigan Divorce Fees To Be Hiked

DETROIT (AP) — What God hath joined together is going to cost you 25 per cent more to split asunder in Michigan.

The State Bar of Michigan's professional economics committee has boosted the schedule of suggested minimum attorney fees for divorce 25 per cent across the board.

The rock bottom minimum for getting a simple, uncontested divorce with no complicated property settlement or child custody battles is $350 to $400, according to the new fee schedule.

Divorces requiring lawyers to do more paperwork will be priced at $500 and up, according to the latest Attorneys Desk Book sent in April to all Michigan lawyers.

On contested cases, charges will be tacked on at day rates, figured at a minimum of $35 an hour, for "extras" not covered in the regular minimum, according to the book.

Increased operating and living costs necessitated the boost in lawyer's fees, according to Detroit attorney Norman R. Robbins, chairman of the State Bar's Family Law Committee.

"The bar has been way behind in trying to keep up with economies," he said, explaining this is the first recommended increase since 1963.

"Meanwhile attorneys pay out more in salaries and other expenses. Even court costs have risen sharply. Where it used to cost $2 or $3 to serve papers, it now costs $10," he said.

The recommended minimums are supposedly not mandatory, but the Attorneys Desk Book authors state, "the habitual charging of fees lower than those established by the schedule may be evidence of unethical conduct" by an attorney and subject to action by the Senate Bar.

Detroit-based Marriage and Divorce Law Reform League (MDRL) is dismayed by the increased cost of divorce, according to its president, Norman McKinney.

"The attorneys and judges are making it virtually impossible for people to remain law abiding citizens—to comply with unreasonable judgments and have a life afterward," McKinney said.

"This is a lot of money for most guys, especially when the attorneys refuse to complete the case until they have their pay in full."

Threat Of Fire Still Remains In Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A threat of fire remains in the wake of a 1.5 million gallon wave of oil which broke through an earthen dyke around a lagoon Saturday in the city's south end.

The oil, held in the lagoon with other industrial wastes, broke through flooding a homeowner's basement and affecting up to 25 acres of grazing land on an adjoining farm. In some places the oil was knee-deep.

No persons were injured, and no official estimate of damage has been made yet. Cause of the break in the 10-foot high wall is being investigated by the city engineering department. Firefighters are posted in the area as the residue remaining on lawns is highly combustible, Acting Mayor Huntley Farrow said Sunday.

Witnesses said the oil flowed through the break in the 10 to 15-foot-thick wall for about two hours before subsiding.

Area residents blamed the break in the city-owned dump-lagoon on automobile industry sewage tank trucks dumping waste oil into the reservoir virtually every day for the past four years.

Swimmer Drowns, Another Still Missing In State

COLONA (AP)—Harvey Niles, 21, of Coloma drowned yesterday while swimming in Little Paw Paw Lake near Coloma in Berrien County. Divers from the Berrien County sheriff's department recovered Niles' body.

Meanwhile, at Paw Paw Lake a short distance away, sheriff's Coloma Township police continued their search for the body of Pete Morris, 60, of Chicago. He drowned last Thursday when a motorboat he was in capsized.

Search operations have been hampered because of the 70-foot deep water, which has limited searchers to short dives and extended rest periods.

Not everyone buys Bonds for retirement.

Not anyone anyway. Especially since the new higher interest rates went into effect.

U.S. Savings Bonds now pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% for the first year, then after 5.20% to maturity).

Interest like that makes Bonds a great way to save for the extra things that make living a little bit more fun. Boats, vacations, campers, a place at the lake or in the mountains. Things you can enjoy while you're still young.

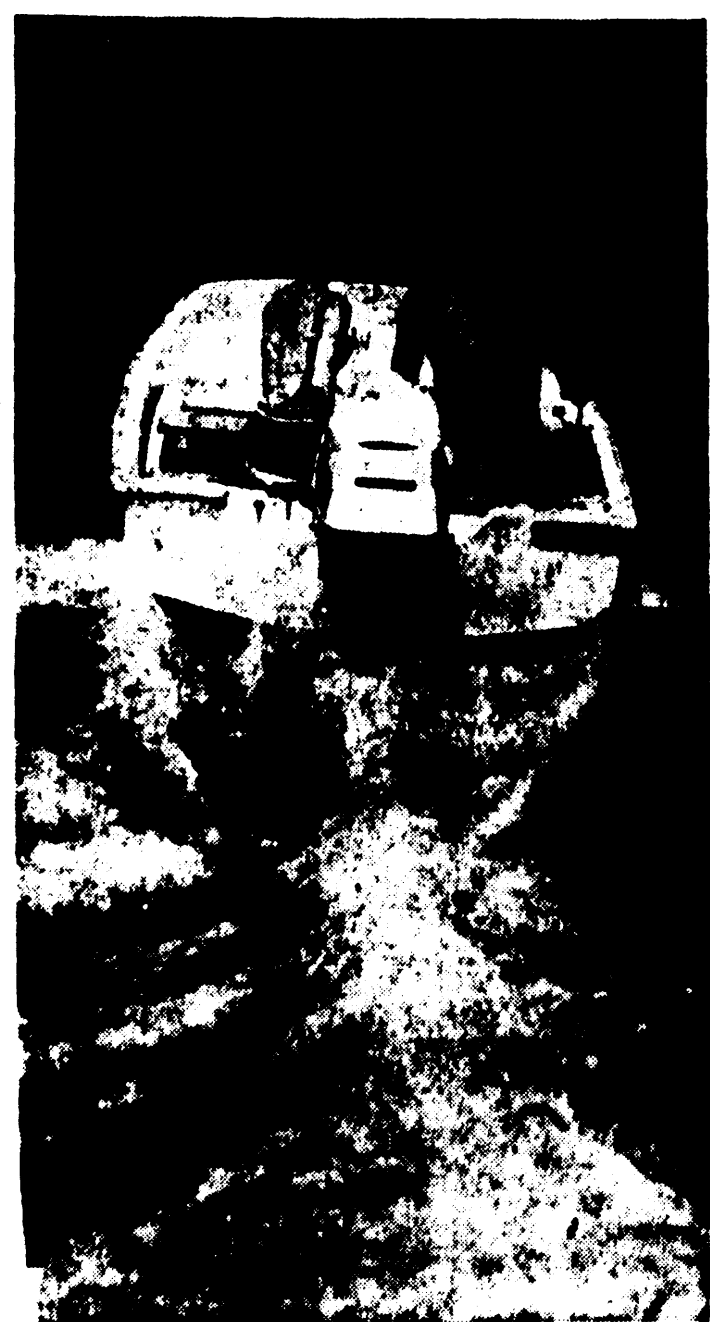

You can get your savings plan started by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bonds-a-Month Plan where you bank.

Start saving now. Bonds are far more than retiring.

Bonds are safe. They are not subject to market risk. When you buy a U.S. Savings Bond, you are guaranteed to get your money back. It is not like stocks, which can go up or down. Bonds are a good way to save.

Persons who camp without a permit are in violation and subject to a fine. Kabon said many persons are obviously unfamiliar with regulations governing the mooring of boats on National Forest lands. Boats cannot be left unattended and must be removed after use, he said.

This is necessary to prevent cluttering of public access sites and boat launching ramps. Illegally moored boats also cause tree damage when chained to the bark of trees. Some old wooden "junks" are also abandoned along the shore and detract from the beauty of the wilderness, Kabon added.

Only by complying with the rules and regulations governing National Forest use can the many resources be available for present and future, use, the district ranger concluded.

Michigan Divorce Fees To Be Hiked

DETROIT (AP) — What God hath joined together is going to cost you 25 per cent more to split asunder in Michigan.

The State Bar of Michigan's professional economics committee has boosted the schedule of suggested minimum attorney fees for divorce 25 per cent across the board.

The rock bottom minimum for getting a simple, uncontested divorce with no complicated property settlement or child custody battles is $350 to $400, according to the new fee schedule.

Divorces requiring lawyers to do more paperwork will be priced at $500 and up, according to the latest Attorneys Desk Book sent in April to all Michigan lawyers.

On contested cases, charges will be tacked on at day rates, figured at a minimum of $35 an hour, for "extras" not covered in the regular minimum, according to the book.

Increased operating and living costs necessitated the boost in lawyer's fees, according to Detroit attorney Norman R. Robbins, chairman of the State Bar's Family Law Committee.

"The bar has been way behind in trying to keep up with economies," he said, explaining this is the first recommended increase since 1963.

"Meanwhile attorneys pay out more in salaries and other expenses. Even court costs have risen sharply. Where it used to cost $2 or $3 to serve papers, it now costs $10," he said.

The recommended minimums are supposedly not mandatory, but the Attorneys Desk Book authors state, "the habitual charging of fees lower than those established by the schedule may be evidence of unethical conduct" by an attorney and subject to action by the Senate Bar.

Detroit-based Marriage and Divorce Law Reform League (MDLRL) is dismayed by the increased cost of divorce, according to its president, Norman McKinney.

"The attorneys and judges are making it virtually impossible for people to remain law abiding citizens—to comply with unreasonable judgments and have a life afterward," McKinney said.

"This is a lot of money for most guys, especially when the attorneys refuse to complete the case until they have their pay in full."

Threat Of Fire Still Remains In Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A threat of fire remains in the wake of a 1.5 million gallon wave of oil which broke through an earthen dyke around a lagoon Saturday in the city's south end.

The oil, held in the lagoon with other industrial wastes, broke through flooding a homeowner's basement and affecting up to 25 acres of grazing land on an adjoining farm. In some places the oil was knee-deep.

No persons were injured, and no official estimate of damage has been made yet. Cause of the break in the 10-foot high wall is being investigated by the city engineering department.

Firefighters are posted in the area as the residue remaining on lawns is highly combustible. Acting Mayor Huntley Farrow said Sunday.

Witnesses said the oil flowed through the break in the 10 to 15-foot-thick wall for about two hours before subsiding.

Area residents blamed the break in the city-owned dump-lagoon on automobile industry sewage tank trucks dumping waste oil into the reservoir virtually every day for the past four years.

Swimmer Drowns, Another Still Missing In State

COLONA (AP) — Harvey Niles, 21, of Coloma drowned yesterday while swimming in little Paw Paw Lake near Coloma in Berrien County. Divers from the Berrien County sheriff's department recovered Niles' body.

Meanwhile, at Paw Paw lake a short distance away, sheriff's Coloma Township police continued their search for the body of Pete Morris, 69, of Chicago. He drowned last Thursday when a motorboat he was in capsized. Search operations have been hampered because of the 70-foot deep water, which has limited searchers to short dives and extended rest periods.

Not everyone buys Bonds for retirement.

Not anymore anyway. Especially since the new higher interest rates went into effect.

U.S. Savings Bonds now pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% for the first year; thereafter 5.20% to maturity).

Interest like that makes Bonds a great way to save for the extra things that make living a little bit more fun. Boats, vacations, campers, a place at the lake or in the mountains. Things you can enjoy while you're still feeling young.

You can get your savings plan started by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.

Start saving now. Bonds are for more than retiring.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. You may be deferred until retirement. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
With higher paying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Manistique Little League Team Advances

Rally Overtakes Appleton; Grand Island, Neb., Next

MANISTIQUE — It was "On To Iowa" today for Manistique's amazing Little League team.

The Manistique team, hit with four runs in the first inning by Appleton Northside Kiwanis, rallied for an 8-4 victory Saturday to advance to the Central States Division 1 tournament at Des Moines, Iowa, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Manistique will face Grand Island American of Grand Island, Neb., in the tournament opener at 4 p.m. Thursday. In the second game, Commerce, Okla., will clash with Fort Des Moines, Iowa, at 6 p.m., with the two winners playing for the championship Saturday.

Friday is an open date in case of rain.

All games will be played at Highland Park Kiwanis Field in Des Moines.

The winner of the Central States Division 1 tournament will advance to Kokomo, Ind., against three other division tournament winners with the Kokomo champion advancing to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

Seventh Straight
Manistique's victory Saturday was its seventh straight in Little League tournament play and the team received a rousing reception and welcome home when they arrived in Manistique about 7 p.m. Sunday.

A State Police escort met the Little League automobile caravan at St. Jacques and escorted it through Cooks and back into U.S. 2, where a Public Safety fire truck and city police cars were waiting just east of the city limits. After an official welcome from Mayor Douglas Rose and other councilmen, the boys climbed on the truck and, with whistles blowing and bells ringing, drove through the city.

Police estimated about 500 persons lined the streets waving cards encouraging the team. The caravan ended on the City Hall lawn, where the boys were treated to pizza and soft drinks. It was a joyous finish to a weekend which appeared all but joyous after the first inning Saturday.

Fall Behind
With Jeff Miller on the hill for Manistique, Appleton coupled three hits and a walk for a 4-0 lead. Pat Green walked, moved to second on a sacrifice and went to third when Jeff Connen doubled. A single by Mike Burke produced one run and Joe Tennie unloaded a three-run homer to send Appleton winging.

That, however, was the end of their scoring and Miller, although he granted eight walks and hit a better to stay in constant trouble, choked off the Wisconsin team when they threatened to score. Rightfielder Randy Lund threw out Green at the plate in the fourth inning, saving one run.

Meanwhile, the Manistique bats — paced by Jay Ketchik who had a double and a homer and drove in four runs — came to life.

Ketchik's homer after a single by Jim Nelson narrowed the deficit to 4-2 in the third inning and the winners broke the game open in the fourth, scoring six times on six hits.

Rally Starts
Burt Chandler singled to start the rally. John Ozanich walked and Jack Weber singled, leading the bases. Nelson forced Chandler at the plate, but Ketchik lashed a double, scoring Ozanich and Weber to tie the game, and Miller singled home Nelson with the tie-breaking run. Catcher Bob Masters singled home Ketchik, making the score 6-4, and Miller and Masters came home on errors by the Appleton catcher as Manistique kept the pressure on with a walk to Lund and a hit by Steve White.

Miller struck out six batters in picking up the victory. The only two hits he allowed after the first inning were by Connen.

Lombardi's Tops Iron River Team
Lombardi's Bar, down by a score of 8-2 in the fifth inning, rallied back in the last two innings to defeat Gils Mileage of Iron River 9-8 in a game played at Royce Park Sunday.

Judy Erickson led the winners with three hits while Betty Bolm picked up the mound decision over Marlene Ben-Gry.

Appleton used three pitchers with Burke taking the loss. Manistique roughed him up for seven hits and eight runs. Altogether, the winners collected 11 hits and played errorless baseball. White had three hits and Ketchik and Weber each two.

Zimmerman Wins Nahma One-Club Golf Tourney

NAHMA — The 1970 Nahma 1-Club Golf Tournament, which was held here over the weekend, was won by Elroy Zimmerman of Escanaba with a 40-43 for a total of 83.

Second place saw a tie between Barney Brastonia of Gladstone and the defending champion George LeBrasseur of Nahma who both were two strokes off the pace finishing with 85.

In the handicap division there was a tie for first place between Kip Gillis and Brian Boden of Gladstone as both finished with a net 70. In the play-off, Gillis won on the first hole with Fran Bovin of Gladstone taking third place.

In 10 trips to the post in the Belmont Stakes, jockey Beaulieu Beza has scored three times—Arts and Letters 1969, Chateaugay 1963 and Sherluck 1961.

Powley took the lead from Joe Wurth of Menominee on lap 8 of the feature, and only a restart on the next lap kept Powley from running away from the rest of the field. A bumper from one of the cars fell on the track, but when the oval was cleared, Powley again shot into the lead and had little trouble in picking up his second win of the night, and his fifth of the year. Bob Iverson of Hyde was a distant second, with John O'Reilly of Soo, Canada edging out Jim Barron of Flat Rock for third place money.

Powley Wins Third Heat
Powley also had an easy time winning the third heat. Starting in the front row he shot into an early lead and was never seriously challenged. Herb Iverson of Hyde outran his brother, Bob, to the checkered flag for second place honors.

Bob Blank of West Bend, Wis., was also a double winner for the evening, capturing the first heat and the semi-feature. He had little compe-

Kates Snares U.P. Men's Golf Crown

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. — 22-year-old Paul Kates of Canadian Soo who is employed as a pro shop assistant at Root River Golf Club is the new U.P. Peninsula Men's Golf Champion.

Kates fired an even-par 72 Saturday which held off the challenge of hot and cold Paul Bietsla of Iron Mountain.

Bietsla, 17 year old, rolled in six birdies on the final round, but when the putts failed to drop he seemed to lose his confidence, four putting twice.

Kates had a four-day total of 292 for the 72 holes, four over par for the tournament. Bietsla, who started the final day four strokes behind, finished that way in second place with 296.

Larry Tiziani of Ironwood, was third with 298 as only three golfers were able to break 300 over the demanding course.

Kates, who is the Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. city champion and also club champion, said he played conservatively on the final day to preserve his four-stroke lead over Bietsla.

The 1971 tournament was awarded to Marquette at a meeting of the U.P. Golf Association.

In the other semifinal game, the Merchants, behind the six-hit pitching of Derkos, and the batting of Gluensing who had three safeties, upended Goebel 11-1. The Paper Mill, which gained the finals by coming out of the loser's bracket, defeated Flat Rock 4-1 in the other semifinal game as Ron Smith, who won three games in the tourney, hurled a six-hitter. Wagner Likes 'Tight Spots,' Stops Tigers
BOSTON (AP) — Gary Wagner loves to come in from the bullpen in tight spots and Boston Red Sox Manager Ed Kasko is beginning to enjoy watching him do it.

"I would rather pitch in a situation like that," the 29-year-old right-hander said Sunday after his ninth-inning rescue job saved a 7-4 victory for Ray Culp over the Detroit Tigers.

"I don't mind the pressure," Wagner explained. "I think I bear down more in spots like that, and I have more stuff. That's not meant to sound egotistical, but it's just more of a challenge and I think I pitch better."

Culp sailed into the ninth inning with a 7-2 lead, but when he walked the first two batters and then gave up a run-scoring single, Kasko called on Wagner.

The veteran reliever immediately got himself in more hot water by walking Jim Price to load the bases with nobody out. The Tigers then sent Al Kaline up as a pinch-hitter but Wagner struck him out, got Dick McAuliffe on a sacrifice fly, and retired Mickey Stanley on strikes, to end the game.

"I wasn't really loose when I came in," Wagner said. Tiger manager Mayo Smith moved McAuliffe from his regular second base assignment to shortstop Sunday but said "It's not a permanent move. With Kaline and Freehan out of the lineup, I wanted to get an extra bat in there so I put Jones at second and moved McAuliffe over to short."

Tiger pitcher Mickey Lolich, who was tagged for the loss, was blasted out of the game in the first inning after the Sox collected seven consecutive hits. Mayo said that Lolich "has been hot and cold this season."

Beard Gains Title In American Classic

AKRON, OHIO—(AP) Frank Beard allowed the pressure and the treacherous Firestone Country Club course to take care of the opposition, shot a conservative one over par 71 and won the $150,000 American Classic Sunday.

The 31 year old Beard finished with a 72 hole total of 27, four under par for the demanding 7,180 yard, par 70 layout that most of the pros call the toughest on the tour.

The soft spoken golfer finished with a two stroke lead over Jack Nicklaus, Bruce Crampton and Tommy Aaron, tied at 27.

Of the leaders, only Nicklaus could break par, taking a 69 on the cool and cloudy final day.

Aaron, tied for the top until he double bogeyed the 13th, finished with a 72 and Crampton had a 71.

"I had a lot of opportunities to shoot a really good round," Nicklaus said. "I played my best round of the tournament but I couldn't get anything to go in the hole. I missed a lot of really short putts on the front side."

George Archer, the leader through the first two rounds, finished with a 73 and was alone at 279.

Tom Shaw, who shared the lead with Beard going into the final round, double bogeyed two of his first three holes and finished with a 75 for 280. He was tied at that figure with Dale Douglas, who closed with a 68.

Of the players in position to challenge Beard, only Nicklaus could make a run at him and that fell short when a long birdie putt tipped the cup on the final hole.

Gary Player managed a 69 for 281.

Manistique Little League Team Advances

Rally Overtakes Appleton; Grand Island, Neb., Next

MANISTIQUE — It was "On To Iowa" today for Manistique's amazing Little Leagueers.

The Manistique team, hit with four runs in the first inning by Appleton Northside Kiwanis, rallied for an 8-4 victory Saturday to advance to the Central States Division 1 tournament at Des Moines, Iowa, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Manistique will face Grand Island American of Grand Island, Neb., in the tournament opener at 4 p.m. Thursday. In the second game, Commerce, Okla., will clash with Fort Des Moines, Iowa, at 6 p.m., with the two winners playing for the championship Saturday.

Friday is an open date in case of rain.

All games will be played at Highland Park Kiwanis Field in Des Moines.

The winner of the Central States Division 1 tournament will advance to Kokomo, Ind., against three other division tournament winners with the Kokomo champion advancing to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

Seventh Straight

Manistique's victory Saturday was its seventh straight in Little League tournament play and the team received a rousing reception and welcome home when they arrived in Manistique about 7 p.m. Sunday.

A State Police escort met the Little League automobile caravan at St. Jacques and escorted it through Cooks and back into U.S. 2, where a Public Safety fire truck and city police car were waiting just east of the city limits. After an official welcome from Mayor Douglas Rose and other councilmen, the boys climbed on the truck and, with whistles blowing and bells ringing, drove through the city.

Police estimated about 500 persons lined the streets waving cards encouraging the team. The caravan ended on the City Hall lawn, where the boys were treated to pizza and soft drinks. It was a joyous finish to a weekend which appeared all but joyous after the first inning Saturday.

Fall Behind

With Jeff Miller on the hill for Manistique, Appleton coupled three hits and a walk for a 4-0 lead. Pat Green walked, moved to second on a sacrifice and went to third when Jeff Conenen doubled. A single by Mike Burke produced one run and Joe Tennie unloaded a three-run homer to send Appleton winging.

That, however, was the end of their scoring and Miller, although he granted eight walks and hit a batter to stay in constant trouble, choked off the Wisconsin team when they threatened to score. Rightfielder Randy Lund threw out Green at the plate in the fourth inning, saving one run.

Meanwhile, the Manistique bats — paced by Jay Ketick who had a double and a homer and drove in four runs — came to life.

Ketick's homer after a single by Jim Nelson narrowed the deficit to 4-2 in the third inning and the winners broke the game open in the fourth, scoring six times on six hits.

Rally Starts

Burt Chandler singled to start the rally. John Ozanich walked and Jack Weber singled, loading the bases. Nelson forced Chandler at the plate, but Ketick lashed a double, scoring Ozanich and Weber to tie the game, and Miller singled home Nelson with the tie-breaking run. Catcher Bob Masters singled home Ketick, making the score 6-4, and Miller and Masters came home on errors by the Appleton catcher as Manistique kept the pressure on with a walk to Lund and a hit by Steve White.

Miller struck out six batters in picking up the victory. The only two hits he allowed after the first inning were by Conenen.

Lombardi's Tops Iron River Team

Lombardi's Bar, down by a score of 8-2 in the fifth inning, rallied back in the last two innings to defeat Gils Mileage of Iron River 9-8 in a game played at Royces Park Sunday. Judy Erickson led the winners with three hits while Betty Bolm picked up the mound decision over Marlane Bengry.

Powley, Tourangeau Set Pace At Speedway

The two current point leaders at the Escanaba Speedway showed why they are currently running number one in racing action Saturday night. Canadian Soo driver Ed Powley walked off with the modified feature, while Wennele Tourangeau of Schaffer captured the sportsman feature before 3,010 fans.

Powley took the lead from Joe Wurth of Menominee on lap 8 of the feature, and only a restart on the next lap kept Powley from running away from the rest of the field. A bumper from one of the cars fell on the track, but when the oval was cleared, Powley again shot into the lead and had little trouble in picking up his second win of the night, and his fifth of the year. Bob Iverson of Hyde was a distant second, with John O'Reilly of Soo, Canada edging out Jim Barron of Flat Rock for third place money.

Powley Wins Third Heat

Powley also had an easy time winning the third heat. Starting in the front row he shot into an early lead and was never seriously challenged. Herb Iverson of Hyde outran his brother, Bob, to the checkered flag for second place honors.

Kates Snares U.P. Men's Golf Crown

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. — 22-year-old Paul Kates of Canadian Soo who is employed as a pro shop assistant at Root River Golf Club is the new Upper Peninsula Men's Golf Champion.

Kates fired an even-par 72 Saturday which held off the challenge of hot and cold Paul Bietaula of Iron Mountain.

Bietaula, 17 year old, rolled in six birdies on the final round, but when the putts failed to drop he seemed to lose his confidence, four putting twice.

Kates had a four-day total of 292 for the 72 holes, four over par for the tournament. Bietaula, who started the final day four strokes behind, finished that way in second place with 296.

Larry Tiziani of Ironwood was third with 298 as only three golfers were able to break 300 over the demanding course.

Kates, who is the Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., city champion and also club champion, said he played conservatively on the final day to preserve his four-stroke lead over Bietaula.

Lion Schmidt Not Disappointed Over Loss To World Champs

DETROIT (AP) — Victory in defeat—Coach Joe Schmidt may not admit it, but that's what his Detroit Lions have with their opening exhibition football game under their belt.

Detroit lost 30-17 to the Kansas City Chiefs Saturday night, but what is more significant is that:

1. They led 3-0 at halftime.
2. They should have won 31-30 but missed two good opportunities for touchdowns.
3. They lost to a team which is defending world champion and which had an extra week of practice and 24-3 College All-Star game victory in hand.

Little Discouraged
"I'm not disappointed, just a little discouraged," Schmidt said in the Lions dressing room afterwards. "I thought we played good enough to win. We would have won if we didn't miss those two touchdowns. Their offense only scored seven points off us."

Lions owner William Clay Ford was beaming despite the loss.

"Considering we only had four days of practice to their two weeks, and considering they're defending champions," he said, "we did a great job."

Veterans didn't begin supervised practice until Tuesday because of the National Football League Players Association strike.

Funny Six Minutes
"It was a good, close ball game until that last funny six minutes," Ford added.

Funny was about as appropriate as it could be called.

The Chiefs scored two touchdowns and a safety and Detroit scored a TD in a two-minute span of the final six minutes—all on less than normal plays.

With KC ahead 14-10, a Greg Landry pass was batted in the air and into the arms of Chiefs end Jerry Mays who rumbled for a 33-yard touchdown with 5:39 left in the game. Thirty-eight seconds later Kansas City cornerback Emmitt Thomas picked off another Landry aerial and sprinted 42 yards for another score.

Chiefs Score Safety
As if that wasn't enough, another 38 seconds later the Chiefs other end, 225-pound Aaron Brown, busted through the Detroit line to nail Landry for a safety.

Lions linebacker Paul Naumoff apparently got upset over all this and 47 seconds after the safety he tore through the Kansas City line, grabbed the football out of quarterback Tom Flores' hands, and raced for a 35-yard touchdown to conclude the scoring with 3:36 left.

Detroit surprised the Chiefs in the first half with a 3-0 lead on Errol Mann's 24-yard field goal midway through the first quarter. But the KC defense stopped the Lions with two goal line stands in the next quarter, one at the one-yard line and another at the two.

Cotton Drops Pass
Four straight running plays from the six couldn't produce a score and Lion tight end Craig Cotton dropped a Bill Munson pass to ruin the other chance.

Cornerback Jim Marsalis put the Chiefs ahead 7-3 with a 32-yard return of a Munson pass in the third quarter. Then Kansas City drove 75 yards in nine plays at the end of the quarter with veteran quarterback Len Dawson tossing a 21-yard TD pass to Otis Taylor to climax the drive.

Lions Narrow Gap
Detroit narrowed the gap 14-10 on a one-yard plunge by Landry at 7:04 of the final period setting the stage for the final six-minute flourish.

Heisman trophy winner Steve Owens, the Lions top draft choice, looked good in his debut and led Detroit runners with 11 carries for 38 yards. He also caught three passes for 16 yards, something the Lions were hoping he could do.

Munson completed 10 of 20 passes for 114 yards as he played most of the first three quarters. Landry ended up with three of eight for 16 yards.

Split end John Wright caught three passes for 63 yards, including a 50-yard picture grab with a defender hanging on him.

Packers' Late Surge Ties Giants 31-31 In Opener

GREEN BAY, WIS. — Don Horn, whose two interceptions helped push the Green Bay Packers into a 31-10 hole here Saturday night, hauled them out again with a brilliant second half as the Packers and New York Giants tied in the Bishop's Charities Exhibition football game, 31-31.

The score continued a tradition of close scores in this game. In Phil Bengtson's three years as coach, Green Bay has, in order, lost 15-14, won 22-21, and now tied.

The game was loosely played, an expectable development in view of shortness of practice time for the teams, but there were more than enough fireworks to send the crowd of 56,263—a Lambeau Field record—home happy.

The first half ended wildly and disastrously for the Packers, and the Giants took a 24-10 lead into their dressing room at intermission.

Stunning Suddenness
The disaster, like all good catastrophes, struck with stunning suddenness. Horn, who had replaced Bar Starr at quarterback with the start of the second quarter, had conducted a brilliant foray downfield, moving from his own nine to the New York four yard line in 3 minutes 19 seconds.

And then, digging to score before the half ended, Horn made his sole mistake of the drive. He tried a quick pass over the middle, perhaps to stop the clock as much as to score, and New York's Jim Files reached up and got a hand on the ball. He caught up with it at the side of the field, caught it and set sail for the far goal.

The early going was all New York. Tarkenton attacked Leon Harden, the corner back who will attempt to replace the retired Herb Adderly, with merciless persistence, and when Ken Ellis replaced Harden, Tarkenton went after him, too.

The Giants took the opening kickoff and ran 12 plays. Nine of the plays were passes, and six of those were thrown into the Harden — Ellis area of the field, including a 19 yard pass to Dick Houston which earned the touchdown.

The hapless Ellis fumbled the ensuing kickoff, and seven plays later, with the Giants stalled at the four, Gogolak kicked an 11 yard field goal for a 10-0 lead.

Only 5 minutes and 43 seconds remained in the first period.

od, but the Packers still caught up in the quarter, on the third play — third and one, which should have told the Giants something — Starr went back after a fake into the line, found Carroll Dale alone in the secondary and hit him with a looping pass, as he had often before. Dale outran Spider Lockart, and Booth Lusteg's kick cut the gap to 10-7.

Now it was Green Bay's turn to benefit from a fumble. Jim Flanigan recovered on the New York 20, and four plays after that Lusteg kicked a 38 yard field goal, tying the score.

But the second quarter was different. Tarkenton kept coming, scoring at the end of a 41 yard march on a three yard pass to Larson, and Gogolak's kick made it 17-10.

The Packers did all the moving thereafter, but the Giants did the scoring, and as the third period began Green Bay had ground to make up.

They began their comeback in unorthodox fashion.

On the fourth play of the period, Horn again threw a pass within reach of Files, and the linebacker brought this one back to the Giant 45.

Giants Score
Two plays gained nothing, but the third did. Ed Baker, in for Tarkenton, lofted a pass out to his left, and with nobody else around, Jeter tried for an interception at his own 35. He didn't get it, and once he was out of the way nobody could get Houston. The play covered 55 yards, and Gogolak's kick made the score 31-10.

But Horn didn't err the next time. He moved 79 yards in nine plays, with the running of Perry Williams and passes of 39 and 13 yards to Clancy the high spots, and the 13 yard aerial carried the Packers into the end zone themselves. Now, the count was 31-17.

A fumble gave the Packers another opening, and Horn made the most of it. McCoy got the ball for the Packers at the Green Bay 46 after New York's Muir had dropped it, and Horn promptly covered 41 of the yards with an artfully thrown pass to Clancy, who caught it with a fine leap. Perry Williams got 10 yards in two rushes, and Anderson accounted for the remaining three, on a dash from right tackle.

Kick Perfect
Lusteg's kick was perfect, and with 45 seconds left in the third period, Green Bay was back in the game, on the short end of a 31-24 score. Ten minutes earlier, few would have made book on that.

Horn continued to make things happen, and hauled Green Bay even with the board once more. He engineered a 62 yard touchdown drive, with consecutive passes to rookie Mike Carter of 16 and 14 yards. But the big play was an interference call on the giants' Ken Parker, when the Packers had third and six on the 15 yard line.

That call, for pushing Claudia James, put the ball on the two, and on the next play Hampton bulled into the end zone. Lusteg's kick completed the comeback, tying the score at 31, and giving Horn and his Packers 21 points in 13 minutes.

Johnson, Mincher Help Angels, A's Sweep Twin Bills

By The Associated Press
When Alex Johnson and Don Mincher came marching home, the California Angels and Oakland A's each did an abrupt about-face... and headed back into the American League's West Division title chase on the double.

Johnson, back from a two-week military reserve hitch, smacked a home run and three singles Sunday as the Angels took a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 5-0 and 6-3.

Mincher, a former Minnesota slugger, socked two homers, a double and two singles against his old teammates, delivering six runs in Oakland's 3-0, 6-3 Twin killing.

The two sweeps cut the Twins' lead in the West to seven games over the runner-up Angels and eight over the third-place A's.

Orioles Roll On
Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore and New York divided 11-inning struggles, the Yanks taking the opener 6-4 and the Orioles winning the nightcap 12-9.

Washington split with Cleveland, bowing 6-3 after a 7-3 victory; Boston downed Detroit 7-4 and Milwaukee beat Kansas City 4-2.

Johnson teamed with fellow reservists Tom Egan and Clyde Wright to engineer the Angels' double victory at Chicago. His run-scoring single and eighth homer of the season gave Wright, pitching on a weekend pass, an early 2-0 lead in the opener and the slender southpaw went on to nail his 15th victory with relief help from Mel Queen.

Boosts Batting Average
Johnson stroked two more singles, boosting his average to .323, and scored twice in the nightcap. He trails league-leader Carl Yastrzemski of Boston by three points in the AL batting race.

Egan, who completed his two-week Air Force stint with Johnson, caught both games and poked an eighth-inning homer in the opener.

Twins Shut Out
Chuck Dobson, who had a 6-11 lifetime mark against the Twins, handed them their first shutout setback in 126 regular season games to trigger Oakland's sweep before a season-high Minnesota crowd of 41,339.

He fired a four-hitter for his seventh consecutive victory since the All-Star break.

Mincher, discarded by the Twins four years ago, drove in two runs in the first game, then delivered four in the nightcap with his 19th and 20th homers.

"It gave me tremendous satisfaction," said the big first baseman. "Not because it was against the Twins but because they're the first-place team."

"I knew they hadn't been shut out in a long time," added Dobson. "And I wanted it."

Roy White powered the Yankees past Baltimore in the first game, tying it with a two-out, two-run single in the ninth and piling a two-run homer in the 11th.

Pinch-Hit Double
Frank Robinson, out of the Orioles' starting lineup with a shoulder injury, pinch-hit a double in the 11th inning of the nightcap to trigger the deciding three-run volley after the Yanks had fought back from an early 6-0 deficit.

The Senators scored five runs on one hit—Rick Reichardt's two-run single—five walks and an error in the sixth inning of the opener to beat Sam McDowell despite a Cleveland triple play.

The Indians bounced back to earn the split as Tony Horton drilled a two-run homer and Vada Pinson doubled home two more runs.

Gus Gil stole home for the deciding run in the seventh, and Dave May drove in two runs with a single and double as the Brewers came from behind to whip Kansas City. Ed Kirkpatrick hit a pair of homers for the Royals.

Pennant Fever Spreads As Pirates Jolt Mets

By The Associated Press
"We have to do it right now," said Roberto Clemente.

"These games aren't crucial," said Willie Stargell.

When players on the same baseball team—the Pittsburgh Pirates in this case—start talking in opposite directions it generally means one thing:

Pennant fever is spreading.

It was running rampant in the Bucs' clubhouse—although no one would admit it—after they took advantage of New York's pitching problems Sunday to turn back the Mets 8-3 and regain a 3½-game lead in the National League East.

Seaver Vs. Ellis
The teams wrap up the four-game series tonight with the Mets sending their ace, 16-game winner Tom Seaver, against Dock Ellis, 12-8.

In Sunday's other games, San Diego turned back Atlanta 4-2 in the only other single contest. In doubleheader action, Philadelphia beat Chicago 6-1 after the Cubs won the opener 4-1; Montreal nipped St. Louis 7-6, then lost to the Cardinals 4-0; San Francisco ripped Houston 6-1 after the Astros grabbed the first game 7-5 in 10 innings, and Los Angeles shellacked Cincinnati 7-3 and 13-3.

Need Good Position
"It's too early to say what's going to happen," Clemente insisted, "but we have to do it right now. We have to get into a good position for that last month." The Mets and Pirates play seven of their final 10 games this year against each other.

Nolan Ryan was nursing a 3-2 lead when the Bucs opened the seventh inning with a walk and put runners on second and third as Ryan threw Matty Alou's sacrifice bunt past first base.

In came Ray Sadecki who proceeded to give up three more walks—one of them intentional—plus a pair of run-scoring singles and a sacrifice fly and the Pirates led 6-3. They added two more in the eighth on Clemente's triple, a sacrifice fly and Stargell's 23rd homer.

San Diego's Nate Colbert and Ed Spiezio cracked solo homers off Pat Jarvis as the Padres beat the Atlanta right-hander for the first time in six decisions. Henry Aaron of the Braves hit his 33rd homer.

Barry Lersch of the Phils made a successful debut as a starter, scattering eight hits while Tony Taylor crashed a two-run homer in the nightcap.

The Cubs won the opener as pitcher Milt Pappas drilled a triple to trigger a two-run eighth-inning rally.

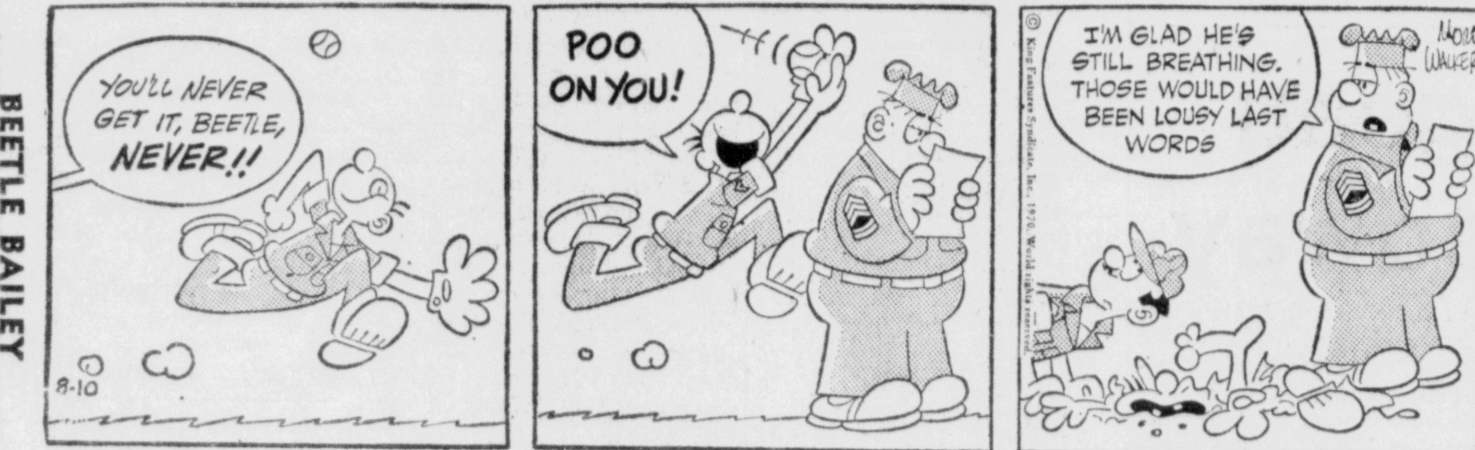

St. Louis rookie left-hander Jerry Reuss twirled a two-hitter to silence Montreal's bats in the second game of their twinbill.

Bobby Wine's two-run tie-breaking double highlighted a four-run seventh inning that paved the way to the Expos' first game triumph.

Giants Rally To Win
San Francisco scrambled back from a four-run deficit and tied the opener in the ninth but Houston's Joe Morgan unloaded a two-run homer in the next frame. Frank Johnson's two-run double in the sixth gave the Giants all the runs they needed in the nightcap.

Los Angeles unleashed a 25-hit attack—20 of them in the second game—to cut the runaway Reds' lead in the Western Division to 12 games. Ted Sizemore led the Dodgers attack with seven hits for six runs batted in.

$15 Million Goes To Yale For New Housing Project

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Publisher John Hay Whitney has donated $15 million to Yale University to finance the construction of residential units for 600 men and women.

A spokesman for the university said Sunday the new housing will help alleviate overcrowding caused when Yale became co-educational last fall. He described Whitney's donation as one of the largest individual donations ever received by the school.

Whitney is senior member of the Yale Corporation, the governing body of the university.

Congo President Has Great Time At Disneyland

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — President Joseph Mobutu of the Congo took a morning off from the business of his 12-day trip to the United States—encouraging investment in his central African nation—and toured Disneyland.

His favorite attraction? The Adventureland ride up a simulated Congo River.

"He thought it was very delightful and he chuckled when he saw the hippos," an aide reported Sunday. Unlike the Congo's, Disney hippos are mechanical.

Mobutu left Sunday for New York on the last leg of his visit.

Nixons Returning From Camp David

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Nixon have returned to the nation's capital after a two-day stay at Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains.

It was a quiet weekend for the president. He conferred with advisers H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman on both Saturday and Sunday. He returned to the White House with Mrs. Nixon by helicopter late Sunday afternoon.

RECALLS FIRST WIN

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Relief pitcher Orlando Pena of the Pittsburgh Pirates recalls the first game the popular Cuban won in the United States.

"It was the year I won 21 games for Daytona Beach in the Florida State League," says Pena. "Johnny Van der Meer, who pitched those two no-hit games in succession for Cincinnati, was our manager and he pinch hit for me. He got a blooper hit and I won my first game. That was 16 years ago."

When Pena got his first paycheck he went to the novelty shop and bought Van der Meer dozens of multicolored toys. Orlando liked the toys and he wanted Van der Meer to have them.

Instead of sending him to college, they had him convicted of stealing mail. He's now serving his three-month term at Boman Jail, only a few hundred yards from the Police College.

Habitant Fence Expanding Plant At Stephenson

STEPHENSON — Habitant Fence Division of Habitant Shops, Inc., today announced that contracts have been let for machinery and equipment for an all new White Cedar Fence manufacturing facility at Stephenson.

A Earl Plourde, director of operations, said that this new facility will mean a doubling of employment and output at Stephenson.

"We have spent the best part of a year studying the newest and most efficient manufacturing machinery," Plourde said, "and this new plant will be by far the most automated in our industry. The building to house this new operation is already completed and we are promised delivery of most of the equipment for installation by mid-September. Our plans are to have it in full operation this fall, building stock for the 1971 season."

Roger Weng, Stephenson plant manager who will head both the old and the new facilities, commented, "we are all terribly excited about this new factory because a tremendous amount of study and a considerable investment has gone into it already."

N. A. Eddy, president, said "the expansion means we will offer considerably more and steadier employment to workers in the Stephenson area, and of course will look to the woods producers for much larger quantities of cedar post raw material."

"We have spent many years studying ways to dispose of our wood waste without burning or dumping," Eddy added, "and we hope soon to incorporate some of the results of this research into this new plant. While the wood waste disposal program is not totally solved, we feel we are much closer to economically feasible solutions."

Festival Goes 'On Rocks' Due To Unpaid Fans

MOSPORT, Ont. (AP) — An estimated half of the 50,000 persons who gathered at Mosport Park for a weekend of standard rock festival fare—music, drugs and nude bathing—did not pay the $15 entry fee. As the event grooved to an end the sponsors said they were losing money.

Michael Moore, president of the group sponsoring the Strawberry Fields Rock Festival, did not say how large a loss was involved.

Provincial police kept a 300-man special detachment in the area throughout the weekend. They reported little trouble and only a handful of arrests for drug or liquor offenses.

No arrests were made on the festival site itself, where drugs including LSD were bought, sold and used openly.

Medical clinics on the site did not keep lists of people treated but an extra tent was set up to handle drug users suffering from "bad trips."

Richard Elson, administrator of the nearby Bowmanville Memorial Hospital, said Sunday the hospital had admitted 53 persons, "about half of them drug cases."

Free food, mainly rice and fruit, was distributed by operators of a Toronto restaurant.

Cyclist Dies

Boards Seeks Library Fund

STEPHENSON — The Menominee County Library Board, meeting here in special session Thursday, adopted a resolution calling on the Menominee County Board of Commissioners to approve the establishing of a county library building fund.

The resolution requests the County to create a building and site fund and place the Library Board's 1969-70 penal fine monies in the amount of $20,000 "in said fund to go towards the new anticipated and much needed Menominee County Library Building."

The Library Board notes that:

There is a commitment of $50,000 in federal monies and $25,000 assured by the City Council of the City of Stephenson, with the $20,000 a fund totaling $95,000 or 76 per cent of the goal will have been reached."

The Library Board further requests that the Menominee County Commissioners make a commitment in the amount of $30,000 "to be applied toward the goal of $125,000 for a new Menominee County Library facility."

Search Uproots Tupamaro Leader

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Uruguayan government has derived one dividend from the search for three kidnapped foreign officials. It has captured the leader of the Tupamaro guerrillas sought for six years.

Raul Sendic, 45, was arrested Friday with a dozen other persons during the nationwide search for U.S. advisers Dan A. Mitrione, 50, and Claude L. Fly, 65, and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41.

The rebels immediately threatened reprisals against the government, the diplomatic colony and security forces if harm comes to their "arrested companions."

Government interrogators have questioned Sendic, Raul Bidegain Greising, another ranking leader, and the others arrested with them almost continually. But police sources say Sendic declared himself a "prisoner of war" and would give no information except his name.

APPOINTED DEPUTY
LONDON (AP) — The Rev. Robert Jeffery, 51, has been appointed acting deputy to Bishop John Howe, Executive Officer of the Anglican Communion. The Rev. Jeffery, who will be based in London, has spent most of his ministry in the Province of the Church of South Africa. He is a canon of Capetown and has been Warden of Zonnebloom College since 1959.

When Yellowstone National Park opened in 1872, trains and stagecoaches brought only the most intrepid lovers of nature. Visiting the park meant open-fire cooking, sleeping in tents or under the stars, and plenty of 19th-century "roughing it."

Today Could Change Life Of Informer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Kasabian—the state's prime witness against Charles Manson and three codefendants—may be given immunity today from prosecution in the murder of Sharon Tate and six others. But another important issue will remain: her complicity.

At defense attorneys' request, Superior Court Judge Charles Older scheduled a hearing today on whether to grant Mrs. Kasabian immediate immunity. The defense says the witness, still under cross-examination, might recant her testimony if she is sure of not being prosecuted.

During 10 previous days on the witness stand Mrs. Kasabian said she went along on murder missions Aug. 9 and 10, 1969, but that she was a lookout and didn't kill anybody. The prosecution promised her immunity in return for her testimony.

Although Mrs. Kasabian may not go to jail as a result of the killings, whether she is judged an accomplice could effect the fate of Manson, 35, Susan Atkins, 21, Leslie Van Houten, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22.

California law says a defendant can't be convicted solely on the testimony of an accomplice. But, says one prosecutor in the Tate case, "Corroborating evidence need not be strong enough to convict. It must tie each person into the case."

To provide such corroborating evidence, the prosecution plans to call at least 40 witnesses.

Habitant Fence Expanding Plant At Stephenson

STEPHENSON — Habitant Fence Division of Habitant Shops, Inc., today announced that contracts have been let for machinery and equipment for an all new White Cedar Fence manufacturing facility at Stephenson.

A Earl Plourde, director of operations, said that this new facility will mean a doubling of employment and out-put at Stephenson.

"We have spent the best part of a year studying the newest and most efficient manufacturing machinery," Plourde said, "and this new plant will be by far the most automated in our industry. The building to house this new operation is already completed and we are promised delivery of most of the equipment for installation by mid-September. Our plans are to have it in full operation this fall, building stock for the 1971 season."

Roger Weng, Stephenson plant manager who will head both the old and the new facilities, commented, "we are all terribly excited about this new factory because a tremendous amount of study and a considerable investment has gone into it already."

N. A. Eddy, president, said "the expansion means we will offer considerably more and steadier employment to workers in the Stephenson area, and of course will look to the woods producers for much larger quantities of cedar post raw material."

"We have spent many years studying ways to dispose of our wood waste without burning or dumping," Eddy added, "and we hope soon to incorporate some of the results of this research into this new plant. While the wood waste disposal program is not totally solved, we feel we are much closer to economically feasible solutions."

Festival Goes 'On Rocks' Due To Unpaid Fans

MOSPORT, Ont. (AP) — An estimated half of the 50,000 persons who gathered at Mosport Park for a weekend of standard rock festival fare—music, drugs and nude bathing—did not pay the $15 entry fee. As the event grooved to an end the sponsors said they were losing money.

Michael Moore, president of the group sponsoring the Strawberry Fields Rock Festival, did not say how large a loss was involved.

Provincial police kept a 300-man special detachment in the area throughout the weekend. They reported little trouble and only a handful of arrests for drug or liquor offenses.

No arrests were made on the festival site itself, where drugs including LSD were bought, sold and used openly.

Medical clinics on the site did not keep lists of people treated but an extra tent was set up to handle drug users suffering from "bad trips."

Richard Elson, administrator of the nearby Bowmanville Memorial Hospital, said Sunday the hospital had admitted 53 persons, "about half of them drug cases."

Free food, mainly rice and fruit, was distributed by operators of a Toronto restaurant.

Cyclist Dies

FLINT (AP)—An 18-year-old Ohio youth, Dale Morgan, has died of injuries received Aug. 2 when his motorcycle collided with another near Flint in Genesee County.

Raymond P. Shafer, Pennsylvania; and Gov. John Dempsey, Connecticut. Back row, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, New York; Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, Nebraska and Gov. Warren E. ## Boards Seeks Library Fund

STEPHENSON — The Menominee County Library Board meeting here in special session Thursday, adopted a resolution calling on the Menominee County Board of Commissioners to approve the establishing of a county library building fund.

The resolution requests the County to create a building and site fund and place the Library Board's 1969-70 penal fine monies in the amount of $20,000 "in said fund to go towards the new anticipated and much needed Menominee County Library Building."

The Library Board notes that:

There is a commitment of $50,000 in federal monies and $25,000 assured by the City Council of the City of Stephenson, with the $20,000 a fund totaling $95,000 or 76 per cent of the "goal will have been reached."

The Library Board further requests that the Menominee County Commissioners make a commitment in the amount of $50,000 "to be applied toward the goal of $125,000 for a new Menominee County Library facility."

Search Uproots Tupamaro Leader

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Uruguayan government has derived one dividend from the search for three kidnapped foreign officials. It has captured the leader of the Tupamaro guerrillas sought for six years.

Raul Sendic, 45, was arrested Friday with a dozen other persons during the nationwide search for U.S. advisers Dan A. Mitrione, 50, and Claude L. Fly, 65, and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41.

The rebels immediately threatened reprisals against the government, the diplomatic colony and security forces if harm comes to their "arrested companions."

Government interrogators have questioned Sendic, Raul Bidegain Greissing, another ranking leader, and the others arrested with them almost continually. But police sources say Sendic declared himself a "prisoner of war" and would give no information except his name.

APPOINTED DEPUTY

LONDON (P) — The Rev. Robert Jeffery, 51, has been appointed acting deputy to Bishop John Howe, Executive Officer of the Anglican Communion. The Rev. Jeffery, who will be based in London, has spent most of his ministry in the Province of the Church of South Africa. He is a canon of Capetown and has been Warden of Zonnebloom College since 1959.

When Yellowstone National Park opened in 1872, trains and stagecoaches brought only the most intrepid lovers of nature. Visiting the park meant open-fire cooking, sleeping in tents or under the stars, and plenty of 19th-century "roughing it."

Today Could Change Life Of Informer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Kasabian—the state's prime witness against Charles Manson and three codefendants—may be given immunity today from prosecution in the murder of Sharon Tate and six others. But another important issue will remain: her complicity.

At defense attorneys' request, Superior Court Judge Charles Older scheduled a hearing today on whether to grant Mrs. Kasabian immediate immunity. The defense says the witness, still under cross-examination, might recant her testimony if she is sure of not being prosecuted.

During 10 previous days on the witness stand Mrs. Kasabian said she went along on murder missions Aug. 9 and 10, 1969, but that she was a lookout and didn't kill anybody. The prosecution promised her immunity in return for her testimony.

Although Mrs. Kasabian may not go to jail as a result of the killings, whether she is judged an accomplice could effect the fate of Manson, 35, Susan Atkins, 21, Leslie Van Houten, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22.

California law says a defendant can't be convicted solely on the testimony of an accomplice. But, says one prosecutor in the Tate case, "Corroborating evidence need not be strong enough to convict. It must tie each person into the case."

To provide such corroborating evidence, the prosecution plans to call at least 40 witnesses.
